in appreciation for their dedication to our profession, our school, and ourselves.

JAN P. CHARMATZ

CLYDE EMERY

ROY R. RAY

This yearbook is only a brief glimpse of the School of Law for the year 1969-1970. Indeed, so much happens during any particular year at the school that it would be difficult adequately to put it all together in words and pictures.

I congratulate the editor of this volume and his staff who have given us a splendid reminder of people and events during a busy year. I congratulate the seniors and to all our students go our best wishes.

Professor Charmatz's Retirement Party

— a legend in his own time

"Being the wife of a law student is really rough."

"Don't they wear stuff like this in Brooklyn?"

"Candy is a very nice girl, Tyson. Why don't you marry her and make something of yourself?!!"

"There's a giant bug in your ear."

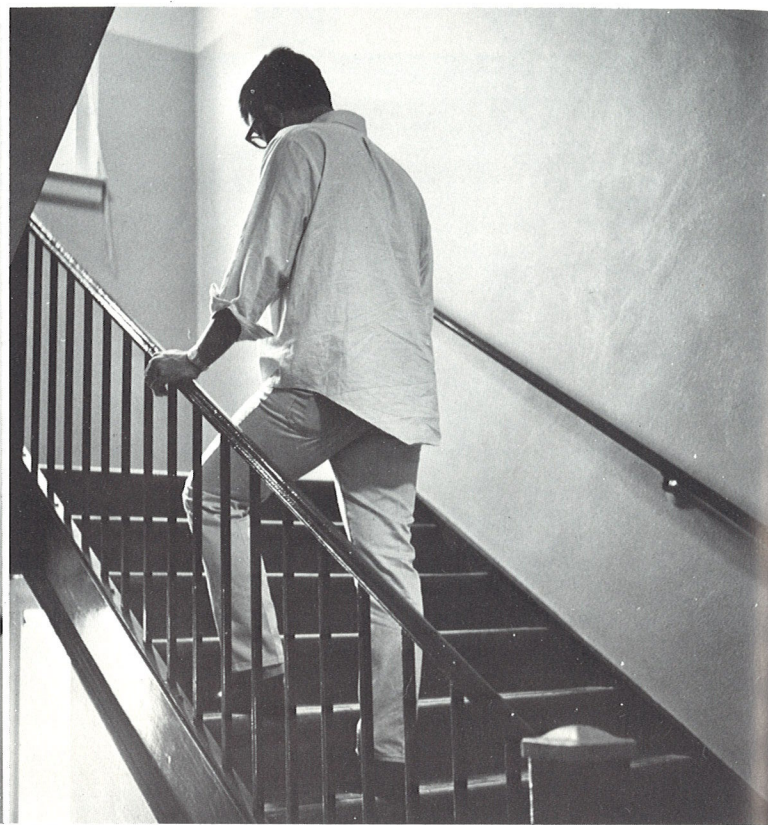

"Hey, I can see right through to the other side!"

"I feel like pouring this beer all over you!"

"Greetings from the president?"

"Oh my God."

"You'll need these cans and outlines. Just ask any second or third year student."

"Let's see. That will be five hundred dollars."

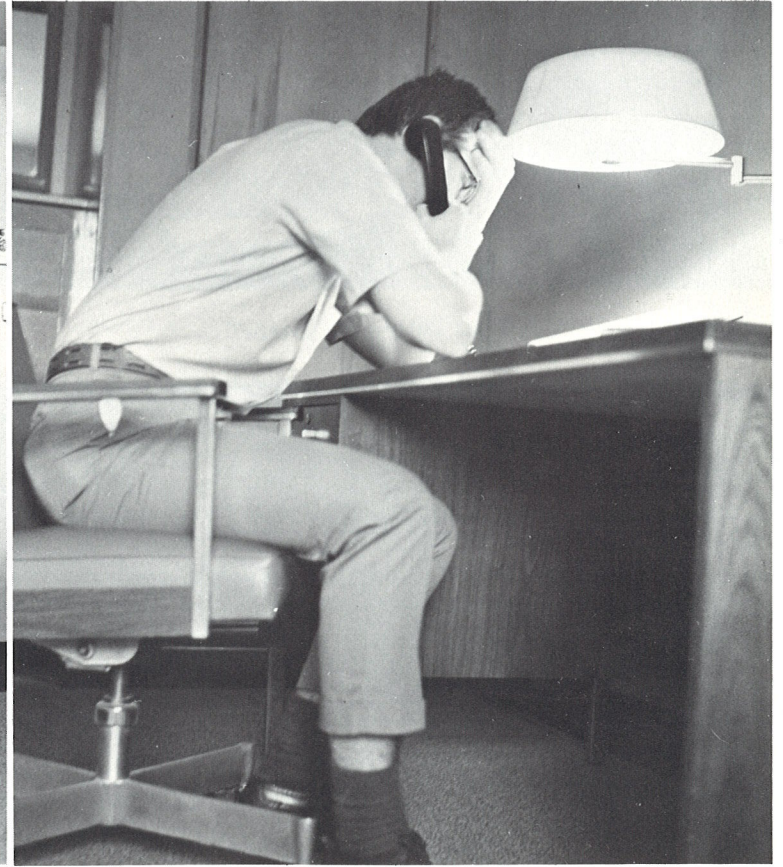

"What I really need is a scotch."

"You should see what I sleep with."

"No we can't sing the Easter Overture. How about Guardo El Lobo?"

"Hello, Dad? What the heck is a writ of quare clausum fregit?"

"Jackson! You've just been impeached."

"I really dig this heavy, acid rock."

"Can I buy you a drink sweetie?"

"Me and the boys have decided you're getting too much of the action."

"How was I supposed to know that was your professor I spilled my beer on?"

"Double your pleasure; double your fun . . ."

"Honest — that meatball was this big."

"Come on, Poynor, it was this big."

"I thought lawyers acted sedate and reserved!"

"Smooth!"

"I have to go home and study."

"This couldn't be the Law Library."

"I had four of these hats, but Enderby, Sylvester and Donovan stole them."

"Yes I guess you could call me conservative — but I wouldn't answer."

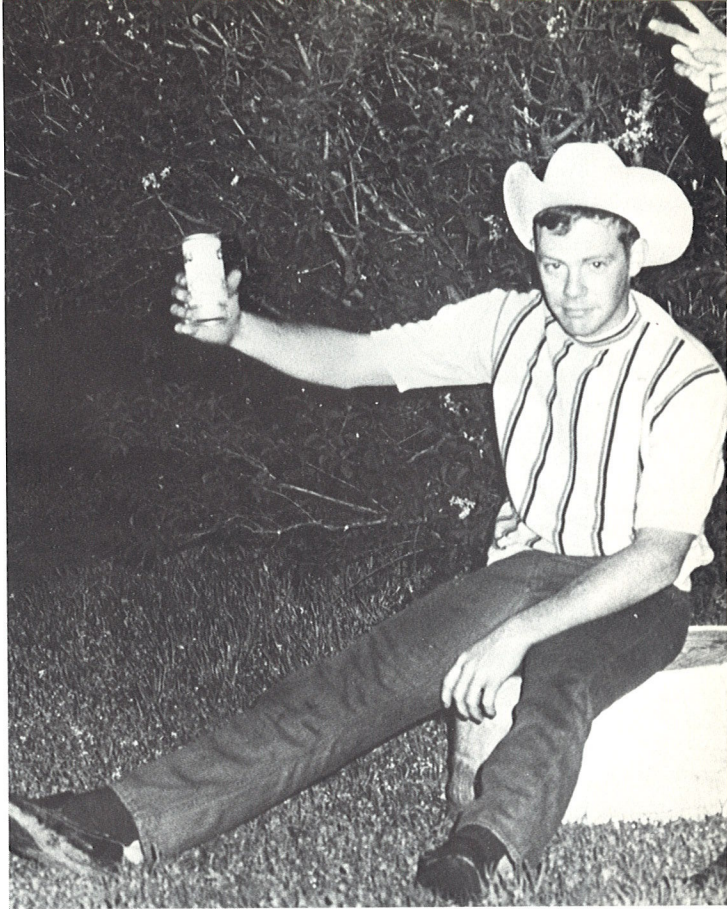

"This spoon tastes better than the food."

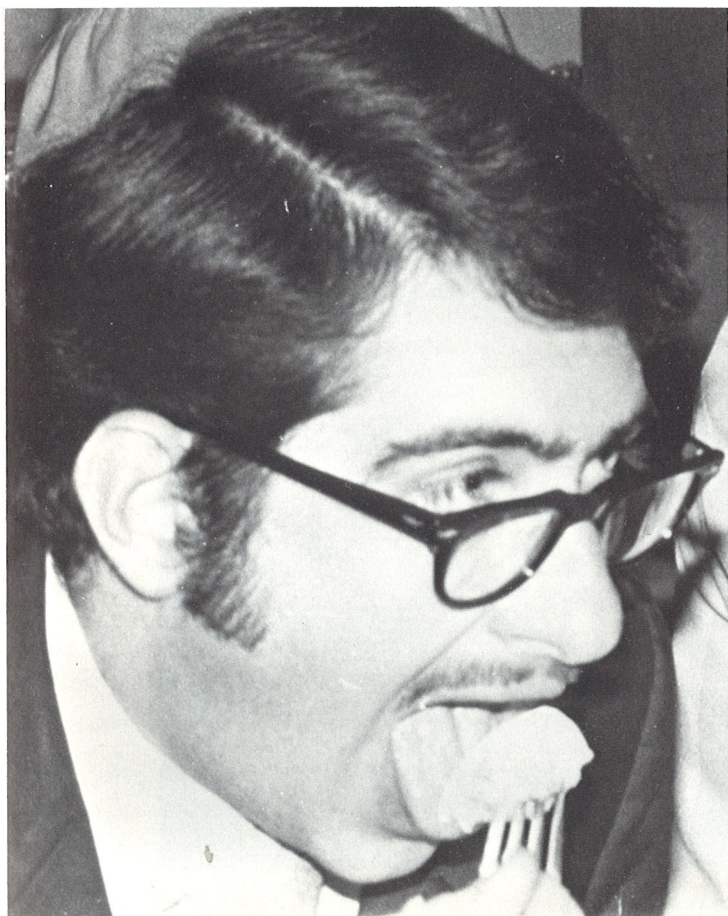

"Get up! The T.G.I.F. is over."

"You can always spot a law student."

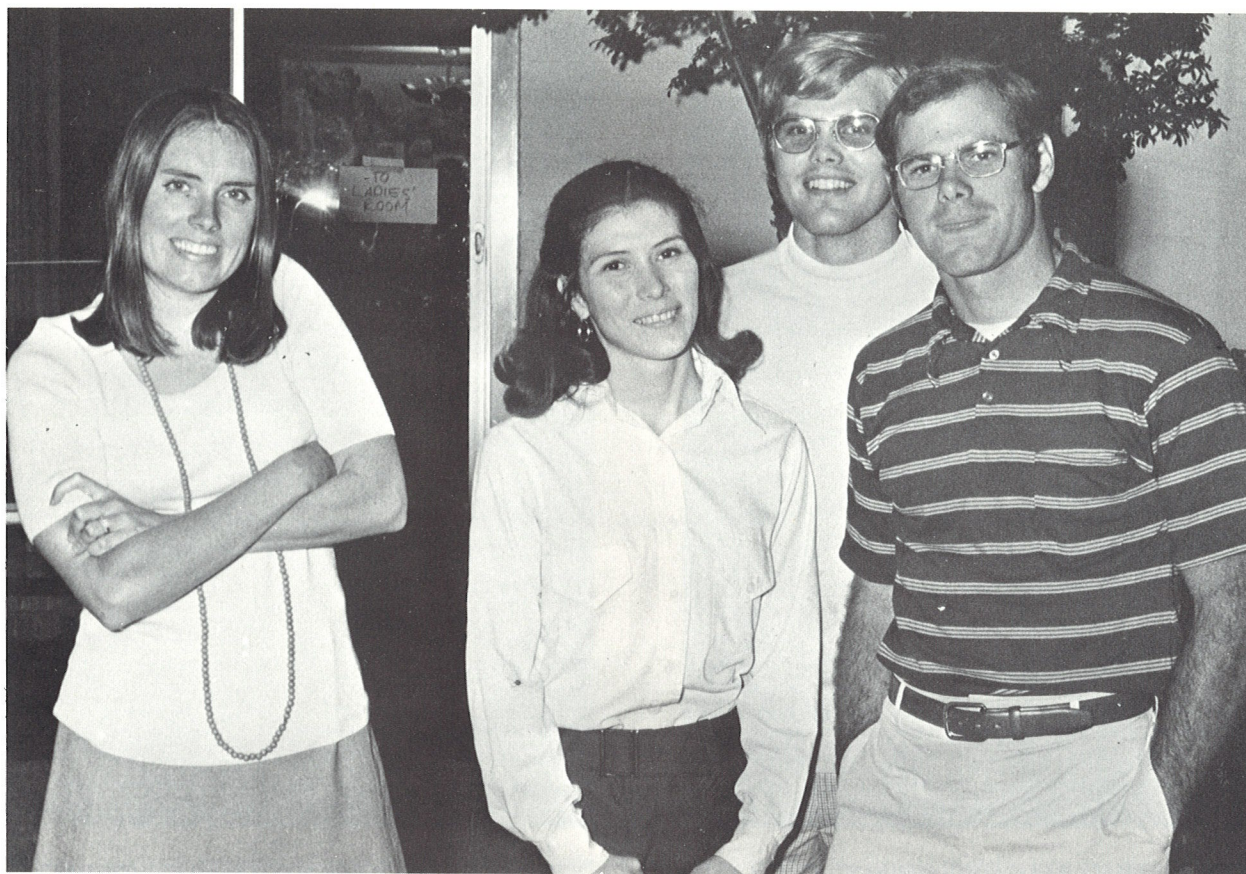

"Only one way to recover from exams."

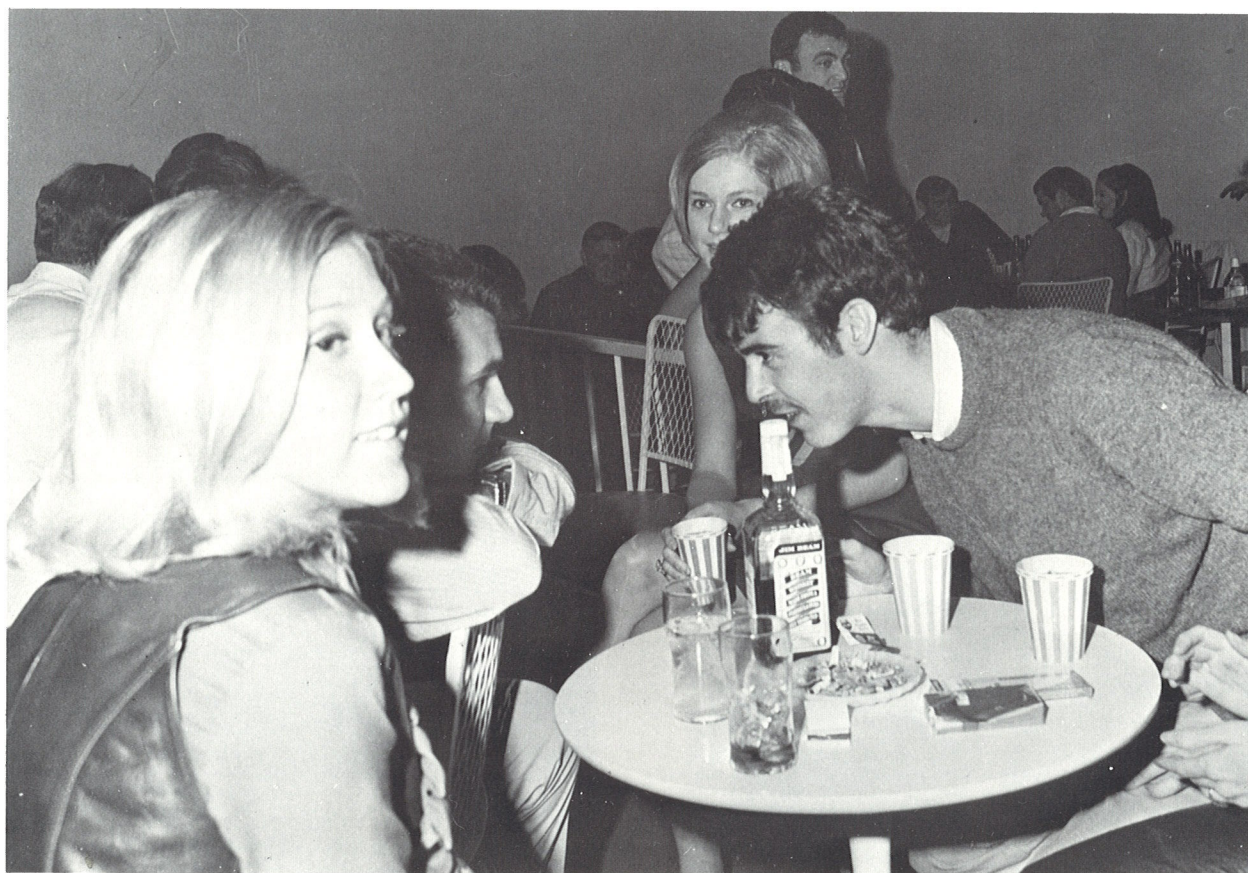

"Rattlesnake steak!!!"

"One small step for man . . ."

"I just bit the end of my tongue off."

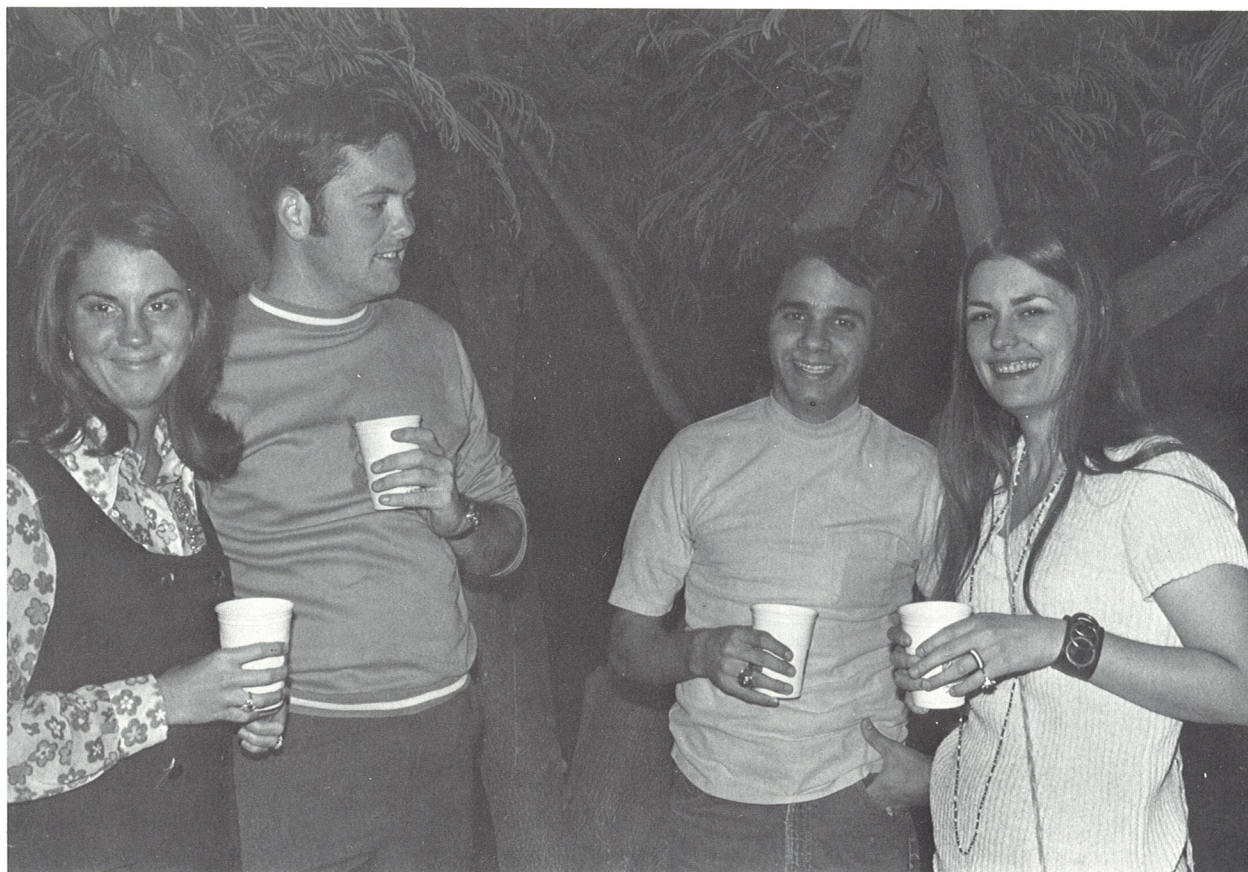

"Watch me eat the cap off this bottle."

"What am I bid for this slightly used law professor?"

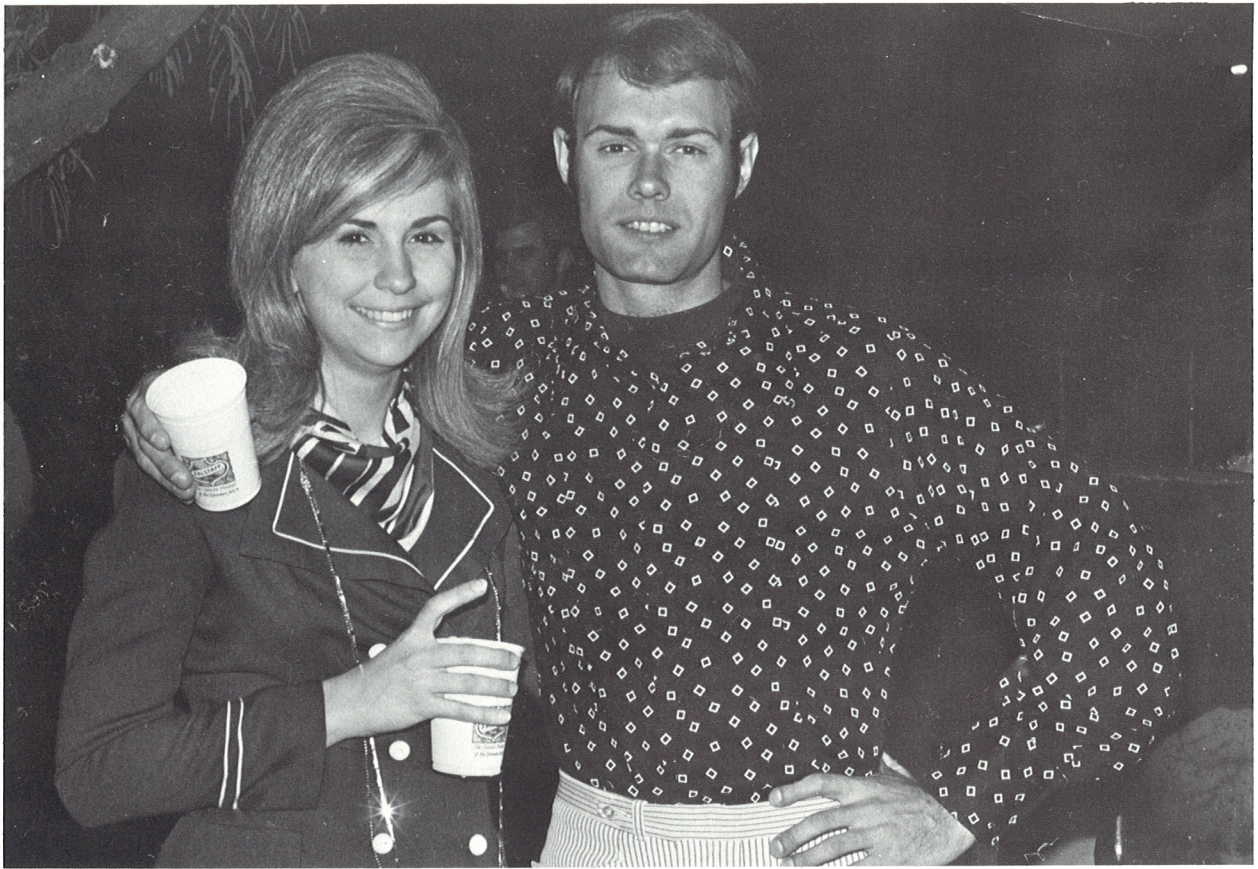

"Arthur, you're stealing my thunder!"

"That joke wasn't that funny, Harry."

"You dropped this while you were dancing."

"I borrowed this shirt from Liberace."

"Pretty neat choreography."

"Come on, Cousins, hand it over."

"And then the papa bear said to Goldilocks . . ."

"You have a lovely jugular vein my pretty."

"Do they really do Ipana commercials?"

"Drink this. It will wake you up!"

"Ira, you're standing on my foot."

"What am I supposed to do with all this stuff?"

"And little Tommy Tugboat chugged and puffed . . ."

Musings

What am I trying to do here?
Become a kind of mechanic,
To work on a big legal machine?
Is all this work worth it?
I feel like Prometheus chained to the rock,
Except I'm trying to pull it up the hill.
There's just no end to all we are supposed to know or do.
Maybe that's the gig . . . the whole show.

Sometimes I wish I tried to be an artist,
A singer, or a writer.
Was I afraid, like Keats,
That my name would be written on water?
Maybe that's the gig.

I get my grins seeing other people smile
Knowing I put that smile there.
I feel whole when somebody comes to me
And tells me they're in a bind, and asks
"Can you help me?"
"Yes"
That's sacred . . .
That's the gig.
