ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The work of the editor of this volume has consisted of planning the work, soliciting papers, and contributing data. Only the unfailing courtesy and generous assistance of all contributors have made the completion of the strenuous task possible in the time allotted. For permission to publish these papers, thanks are expressed to the authors and the respective managements of their organizations, namely, the Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army; Magnolia Petroleum Company; Hudnall, Pirtle and Loetterle; and the Shell Oil Company. The members and field-trip committees of the East Texas Geological Society have fulfilled all obligations with dispatch, and the society is to be commended in sponsoring this volume. For the laborious work involved in publication, gratitude is here expressed to the staff of the Southern Methodist University Press and especially to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Stover, Bob F. Perkins, Dr. C. C. Albritton, Jr., and Dr. S. W. Geiser.

For the financial assistance that made this publication possible, the East Texas Geological Society is grateful to the following operators and companies:
