WELCOME TO SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Southern Methodist University opened in the fall of 1915 and graduated its first class in the spring of 1916. This is the University's 78th Annual Commencement Convocation.

The School of Law at Southern Methodist University was established in February 1925. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is approved by the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association.

The first law school class graduated in 1928 with 11 members. This, the 66th graduating class consists of 281 candidates for the Juris Doctor degree, 39 candidates for the Master of Laws degree (Comparative and International Law), and 23 candidates for the Master of Laws degree.

There are four buildings in the Law School Quadrangle. Storey Hall houses the faculty library, faculty and administrative offices, the Legal Clinic, School of Law publications, and Karcher Auditorium. Lawyers Inn has provided living quarters and dining facilities for approximately 80 students as well as a faculty dining room. The building will be renovated during the summer of 1993 in order to provide adequate space for Law School student services offices as well as other university departmental offices. Florence Hall is the classroom building with a model law office and courtroom facilities having modern audiovisual equipment and closed-circuit television. Underwood Law Library contains a collection of approximately 355,000 volumes, ranking second among private law school libraries west of the Mississippi.

The Law School is uniquely advantaged by its location in the Dallas metroplex; it draws its more than 800 students from most of the 50 states and from over 200 colleges and universities. The School maintains a close working relationship with the Dallas Bar Association, of which many of the members teach seminars that provide a wealth of courses in specialized areas. Students have the opportunity to select courses and seminars of small enrollment with intimate interaction with the teaching personnel.

SMU Law School's Legal Clinic provides practical instruction in appellate, civil, criminal, and tax cases under the careful supervision of experienced practitioners. Students prepare legal documents, interview and counsel clients, and appear in court in a variety of cases.

The Graduate Program in International and Comparative Law is attended by distinguished lawyers and judges from many foreign countries with particular emphasis on those from Latin America, the Middle East, and Far East.

For your convenience, restroom facilities are located on the basement and first floor levels of Storey Hall, and Florence Hall.
