§102 THE SCHOOL OF LAW

§102 THE SCHOOL OF LAW of Southern Methodist University was established in February 1925. The school is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is approved by the Section on Legal Education of the American Bar Association.

SMU's School of Law is open to applicants without regard to race, ethnic or national origin, creed, or sex. (See §201 on Admissions.)

§102.1 PROGRAMS AND INSTRUCTION

J.D. DEGREE.—The J.D. (juris doctor) is a first law degree normally obtained in three years of study. Approximately 650 full-time students are pursuing this degree. The primary purpose of the J.D. program is preparation for the practice of law, private or public. The curriculum combines training in the science and method of law, knowledge of the substance and procedure of law, understanding of the role of law in society, and practical experience in handling professional problems. It also explores the responsibility of lawyers and their relations to other segments of society. See Sections II and VI below for detailed discussion of the J.D. program and its unusually rich variety of courses.

Most courses are national or international in scope, although emphasis on Texas law is available for those who plan to practice in Texas. Many graduates choose to practice in the Southwest, but there are SMU School of Law graduates in all parts of the United States; similarly, most students come from the Southwest or Midwest, but there are students representing all parts of the country.

COMBINED J.D.-M.B.A. PROGRAM.—The School of Law and the Graduate Division of the Edwin L. Cox School of Business offer a joint program leading to the J.D. and the M.B.A. (master of business administration) in four years. The program is designed for law practice with a strong business background and for business careers with a strong legal background. See Section III for detailed description.

COMBINED J.D.-M.P.A. PROGRAM.—The School of Law and the Graduate Program in Public Administration of the School of Humanities and Sciences offer a joint course of study leading to the J.D. and the M.P.A. (master of public administration) in four years. The program is designed for those persons who desire career opportunities in the public sector. See Section IV.
THE CLINICAL PROGRAMS. The school sponsors several clinical programs that provide students with an opportunity to earn academic credit while engaging in the actual practice of law. For this work the school provides secretaries and offices conveniently located on the Law School campus. All clinical programs are under the supervision of the Associate Dean for Clinical Education and a full-time staff with practical experience. The clinics serve clients from Dallas County in civil, criminal, and tax cases. In addition, students are provided an opportunity to work for credit as externs in selected legal institutions such as the Office of the District Attorney and the National Labor Relations Board. Students interview clients, prepare pleadings, and present cases in court with the assistance of the clinic supervisors. Clinic students also attend weekly classes dealing with techniques of the practice of law. This work is open to second- and third-year students.

THE CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION PROGRAM provides professional development seminars and publications for the practicing bar. Law students may attend these courses at no charge. The program enhances the general curriculum by expanding the scope of course offerings and bringing outstanding practitioners, jurists, and professors from other schools to SMU to lectures in their particular specialized fields. Students may purchase the course materials that are prepared exclusively for these seminars at a nominal fee, if they desire. The annual Symposium on Recent Developments in Texas Law offers a two-day overview of 14 subject areas in the 18 months period preceding the summer Texas Bar Examination. Some 20 other seminars and short courses provide a broad range of subject matter as diverse as labor law, taxation, civil practice, and constitutional problems.

ADVANCED DEGREES.—The LL.M., M.C.L., and S.J.D. programs are described in Section V. Approximately 50 full-time and 70 part-time students are enrolled in these programs.

§102.2 THE LAW SCHOOL QUADRANGLE.

SMU is located in suburban University Park (a residential community with shopping areas) approximately five miles from the business center of Dallas, Texas. The Law School Quadrangle occupies six acres on the northwest corner of the campus.

The Quadrangle contains four buildings:

—Storey Hall, completed 1949 and renovated in 1978, contains administrative offices, faculty library and offices, an auditorium, and clinical and other facilities.

—Florence Hall, completely remodeled in 1968, contains class and seminar rooms and a court room.

—Lawyers Inn, completed in 1949 and redecorated 1967, contains living quarters for 80 students, dining rooms, and recreation areas. See §104 below.
General Information

—Underwood Law Library, completed 1970, contains open stacks for 450,000 volumes, and carrels and comfortable seating for all students. See §102.3 below.

The buildings are of modified Georgian architecture, as are the rest of SMU's buildings, and are centrally air-conditioned and heated.

§102.3 THE LIBRARY

The Law Library, housed in the Underwood Law Library building, is a research and working collection of over 230,000 volumes. It is among the two dozen largest law school libraries in the country. The collection contains constitutions, codes, statutes, regulations, and substantially all reported cases of the courts of the United States (federal and state), United Kingdom, and other English-speaking countries. These, along with the legal encyclopedias, digests, citators, indexes, treatises, bibliographies, and looseleaf services, provide a comprehensive working collection in Anglo-American law. The library's large treatise collection covers all areas of law and is supplemented by law-related books in the social sciences. Periodical holdings include more than 1,300 titles. In addition, there is a large collection of federal and state government documents supplemented by legislative histories on microform. The library is a depository for the records and briefs of the Texas Supreme Court and receives the records and briefs of the United States Supreme Court in microform. The library's computer terminal provides access to the LEXIS data base.

A large section of the library is devoted to foreign and international law with emphasis on Latin America, Europe, international organizations, and foreign business transactions. Campus libraries nearby contain more than 1,400,000 volumes and are open to law students.

Each year the library is supported by law firms and individual practitioners by contributions through the Law Library Fund for the acquisition of items not budgeted by the University. The following firms or individuals made contributions of $500 or more:

Coke & Coke
Gardere, Porter & DeHay
Hewett Johnson Swanson & Barbee
Hughes Luce Hennessy Smith & Castle
Jackson, Walker, Winstead, Cantwell & Miller
Jenkins & Gilchrist
Johnson, Bromberg, Leeds & Riggs
Joseph Jude Norton
Rain Harrell Emery Young & Doke
Strasburger & Price

§102.4 STUDENT CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves as prospective members of the legal profession. A disciplinary code with appellate procedures is in effect with students, faculty, and administrative participation. Students should familiarize themselves with the standards and disciplinary procedures in Focus, the student handbook. With modifications only in form to fit peculiarities of the School of Law situation, these are the procedures for law students as well. The substantive requirements there set forth are the same. Matriculation in the University constitutes a declaration of compliance with all University rules and regulations.

Students will not, without the written consent of the dean, either individually or collectively, use the name of the University or of the School of Law in any activity outside the regular work of the school.

§102.5 POLICY ON DISCRIMINATION

Southern Methodist University School of Law is committed to a policy against discrimination based on sex, age, race, color, religious creed, or national origin. This policy applies to the activities of the Law School in admissions, placement, housing facilities, scholarships, grants and all other academic and non-academic opportunities—including those which are honorary. Further, the facilities of the Placement Service are available only to employers who conform to a non-discriminatory policy in hiring.

Any individual who feels that the policy on non-discrimination has been violated by the Law School or by an employer using the Placement Service may file a written complaint with the Grievance Committee. This committee, under the direction of the Dean of the Law School, is charged with investigating such complaints to determine whether there has been a violation of the non-discrimination policy and to impose appropriate sanctions. Additional information on this grievance procedure may be obtained from the Dean's office and the Placement Service.
A catalogue supplement, Financial Information—SMU—1978-79, is issued by the Office of the Vice President for Administration. It provides the general authority and reference for SMU financial regulations and obligations, as well as detailed information concerning tuition, fees, and living expenses incurred while attending Southern Methodist University. The catalogue supplement is available at the office of the University Cashier, and in the office of the dean of each school. It will be mailed, upon request, from any of these offices.

For optional or additional charges, and for information which may apply specially to each school, see the current issue of the catalogue supplement, Financial Information—SMU—1978-79.

Payment to Southern Methodist University in the full amount of the charges for tuition, fees, room and board should be received by the Cashier of the University prior to the conclusion of the registration process. The registration process will not be complete and a student may not attend classes until all accounts have been satisfied.

An enrolled student whose University account becomes delinquent or who is in any manner indebted to the University may be dropped from the rolls of SMU and be denied the recording and certification services of the Office of the Registrar, including the issuance of a transcript or diploma.

Arrangements for financial assistance from Southern Methodist University must be made in advance of registration in accordance with the application schedule established by the Office of Financial Aid. A student should not expect such assistance to settle delinquent accounts.

A condensed summary of Graduate School Charges 1978-79 is given below, and will apply to the majority of full-time graduates during fall and spring semesters.

The room rental rate for a Fall or Spring Semester is $410 for each person in a double room. A few single room are available at a semester rental of $615. Rooms are engaged for the regular academic year, which consists of two semesters. Residents who wish to remain in their rooms between Fall and Spring Semesters may do so by making special arrangements with the director of Lawyers Inn. An additional rental will be charged.

The rooms are comfortably furnished. Application for residence must be made on a form supplied by the Office of Housing of the University and must be accompanied by a deposit of $100. Approval of application may not be given until the applicant is accepted for admission to the School of Law. Application forms are sent automatically to all students accepted for admission.

Limited on-campus facilities are available for married students. Information concerning these facilities may be obtained by writing the Office of Housing of the University. A number of University-owned apartments are located near the School of Law. For information write to SMU Apartment Office, Box 137, SMU, Dallas, Texas 75275.

Meals are served Monday through Friday in the Lawyers Inn Dining Room and Saturday through noon Sunday in the Umphrey Lee Student Center. The Lawyers Inn Dining Room is open to all students and to their guests. Those using the dining room (except students living in the inn) may pay for each meal separately or may contract at the time of registration for meals for a full semester.

The cost of meals for one semester is $485 plus 5 percent sales tax, payable at the time of registration.

Rates for rooms and meals are subject to change at the beginning of any semester or Summer Session.
§105.1 SCHOLARSHIPS

A substantial number of scholarship awards are made annually to first-year and upperclass students. Some awards equal full tuition; others cover only a portion of tuition. The Admissions and Financial Aid Committee of the faculty balances need and academic performance in making scholarship awards. To insure that the financial-aid program will continue to grow, each recipient is asked to accept a moral obligation to repay the award when financially able to do so.

All awards are made for one academic year. Recipients must reapply each year for further assistance. Awards are not automatically renewed, and renewal awards may be increased or decreased depending upon funds available and changes in the student's need and academic performance. Because the first year of law school involves an arduous period of adjustment to a new discipline, outside employment is least desirable during that year. For this reason it is the policy of the school to award somewhat larger scholarships to first-year than to upperclass students.

A statement of procedures for application for financial assistance may be obtained from the secretary of admissions.

Hatton W. Sumners Scholarships.—Five scholarships worth more than $6,500 per year for three years are awarded each year to qualified entering students who are residents of, or who are attending colleges or universities in, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, Kansas, Nebraska, or Missouri. Prospective students interested in this program should write for information to the secretary of admissions. These scholarships are awarded primarily on the basis of undergraduate achievement. Completed applications must be on file in the office of admissions of the School of Law by February 1 to be considered for the following Fall Semester.

§108 STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

The SMU Student Bar Association (SBA) is composed of all students in the School of Law. Officers, second year, and third year class representatives are elected in the spring semester of each academic year. Class representatives for first year students are elected approximately one month after the fall semester has commenced.

The primary function of the SBA is to represent the concerns and interests of the law school student body. The SBA sponsors numerous speakers of local and national prominence as well as various social and sports events. All students are urged to serve on one or more of the SBA committees: Faculty Evaluation, Orientation, Finance, Speakers, Social, Publicity, and Law Week.

The Advocate is a newspaper published weekly during the school year by students of the Law School.

The SMU Association of Women Law Students, open to all students, sponsors an annual symposium on women and law, a campus day care center, and provides a link between law students and the Dallas Women's Bar Association.

The Barristers is a general service organization of 15 law students elected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, achievement, and personality.

The Moot Court Board, a student organization, administers a continuing program to create interest in and aid in the instruction of oral and written advocacy.

The National Moot Court Competition is sponsored by the Association of the Bar of the City of New York. Each October law schools of Texas and adjacent states participate in a regional competition preliminary to the final rounds of the National Competition held in New York.

The National Mock Trial Competition is sponsored by the Texas Young Lawyers Association. The regional competitions are held early each year and the final rounds are held soon thereafter.

The Philip C. Jessup International Moot Court Competition is sponsored by the Association of Student International Law Societies. The regional competitions are held in early spring and the international final rounds are held soon thereafter.

The National Appellate Advocacy Competition is sponsored by the Law Students Division of the American Bar Association. Section II: The Juris Doctor Program

1978-79
§II THE JURIS DOCTOR PROGRAM

§201 ADMISSION

§201.1 General Information.—Admission is without regard to ethnic or national origin, creed, or sex. Minority-group applications are encouraged.

§201.2 Dates of Admission.—Beginning students are admitted in the Fall Semester only.

§201.3 Application for Admission.—Application for admission should be made well in advance of the date of intended enrollment, preferably by February 1. Application forms and information regarding required procedures may be obtained from the secretary of admissions. The applicant must file transcripts from all colleges attended with the Law School Data Assembly Service of the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, showing courses completed and courses in which the applicant is enrolled at the date of application. A final official transcript reflecting receipt of the undergraduate degree is required before registration. The application must also be supported by college questionnaires and letters of recommendation on forms supplied by the School of Law.

All students (undergraduate, graduate, new, and transfer) are required to have a physical examination performed by a physician and recorded on the permanent Medical History Form prior to their enrollment at SMU. In order to comply with state law, all students must provide proof of immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, and poliomyelitis.

§201.4 Admission-Application Fee.—Each applicant who is a resident of the United States must submit with the application a fee of $25. This fee is not refundable and will not be credited against tuition in the event of enrollment.

§201.5 Law School Admission Test.—Applicants for admission to the first-year class must take the Law School Admission Test administered by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey. Application blanks with complete details about the test may be obtained by writing to the secretary of admissions. Applicants are urged to take the test not later than the October or December testing date preceding the fall semester in which they seek admission.

§201.6 Pre-Legal Studies.—Although exceptions may be made in special circumstances, an entering student is required to have received a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university prior to enrollment in the School of Law. The School of Law does not prescribe a fixed course of pre-legal study but does examine the record of each applicant to determine whether the undergraduate courses taken reflect adequate preparation for the study of law. The student should pursue a well-rounded course of study, with particular attention devoted to the development of facility and style in the use of the English language.

§201.7 Admission by Selection.—The purpose of the Juris Doctor program is to train students for competent and ethical practice of law on behalf of both private and public clients and for intelligent use of law in business, governmental, and other pursuits. The three-year course of study requires reading and analysis of difficult legal materials, training in effective advocacy of positions in both oral and written form, and the acquisition of other legal skills, such as the drafting of instruments, the counseling of clients, and the negotiation of disputes. Only those applicants who have the capacity to acquire these skills will be admitted. In deciding whether an applicant has this capacity, the Admissions Committee relies heavily on Law School Admission Test scores and undergraduate grades. In recent years, the Law School Admission Test has been refined as a tool for measuring the ability of applicants to read and analyze legal materials. Undergraduate grades continue to be significant, but it is recognized that grades have become inflated in recent years and also that they vary greatly among schools and departments. Hence, the Admissions Committee takes pains to weigh the types of courses taken and the schools attended. Letters of recommendation from persons aware of the applicant's abilities, the amount of time the applicant has been required to work during his or her undergraduate career, and extracurricular activities and other maturing experiences are also considered.

Each year the number of applicants with the requisite capacity far exceeds the number of places in the entering class. In choosing among these applicants the Admissions Committee looks for those whose performance at the School of Law will be outstanding, those who because of their backgrounds will bring to the School of Law different and unusual perspectives, and those whose homes are in areas of the country underrepresented in the student body.

§201.8 Admission Deposit.—Accepted applicants are required to deposit $75 with the School of Law by the date quoted in the letter of acceptance. This date is not earlier than April 1. The fee is credited toward tuition charged upon enrollment. It will be forfeited if the student fails to enroll.

§201.9 Declaration of Intention to Study Law.—The rules governing admission to the bar in most states require that a law student file, with an official of the state in which he intends to practice, a Declaration of Intention to Study Law. It is the responsibility of each student to determine the rules of the state in which he plans to practice and to comply with those rules.
Every person intending to apply for admission to the State Bar of Texas must file with the Secretary of the Board of Law Examiners, not more than 60 days before nor more than 120 days after beginning the study of law, a Declaration of Intention to Study Law. Such declaration must be made on forms prescribed by the Board and must show such facts as to the history, experience, and educational qualifications of the declarant as the Board may require. Instructions and copies of the rules and prescribed forms can be obtained from the Secretary, Board of Law Examiners, Supreme Court of Texas, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. The filing of this declaration is a prerequisite for eligibility to apply to take the Texas bar examinations. Applications to take the examinations must be made separately. In Texas this application must be made no more than 150 days and no less than 90 days before the examination.

§202 ADMISSION WITH ADVANCED STANDING
(Transfers from Other Law Schools)

§202.1 PERSONS ELIGIBLE.—A student who has successfully completed courses at another law school which was at the time of the student's study a member of the Association of American Law Schools or approved by the Section on Legal Education of the American Bar Association may apply for admission with advanced standing. Admission is selective. A student who has been excluded from or who is on probation at another school will not be admitted.

§202.2 DATES OF ADMISSION.—An applicant who has completed two or more semesters at another law school may be admitted either in the Fall or the Spring Semester or in the Summer Session. An applicant who has completed less than two semesters should submit a list of courses taken and inquire concerning possible dates of admission.

§202.3 APPLICATION.—Application for admission with advanced standing must be made on a form supplied by the School of Law. It must be supported by transcripts from all colleges and law schools previously attended. Good standing in the law school last attended must be established by a letter from the dean of that school.

§202.4 ADVANCED CREDIT.—The amount of advanced credit given for work completed in another law school will be determined by the Curriculum Committee.

§202.5 MINIMUM RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT.—A student admitted with advanced standing may not qualify for a degree from the School of Law until that student satisfactorily completes at least 60 semester-hours at Southern Methodist University.

§203 AUDITORS

Auditors other than full-time students are not permitted. A full-time student may audit a course with the consent of the instructor.
§204 REGISTRATION

§204.1 REGISTRATION PERIODS.—The times for registration are shown in §101 above and may be changed by announcement of the dean. Students who fail to register during the announced registration period must secure permission of the dean to register late. A late registration fee of $15 will be charged, without exception, of all students who register late.

§204.2 MINIMUM AND MAXIMUM HOURS.—

§204.3 ADDING, DROPPING, AND WITHDRAWING. A student must give notice on a form provided by the Records Office whenever the student adds, drops, or withdraws from a course. A student may add or drop a course during the periods set forth in §101. A fee of $5 will be charged for each course a student adds or drops.

A student may withdraw from a course at any time with the consent of the instructor, who shall use personal discretion to determine the grade received for the course. If the student withdraws from a course before noon on the last day of classes, the student will ordinarily receive no grade (WP) for the course. If a student withdraws from a course after noon on the last day of classes, the student will ordinarily receive a failing grade (WF) for the course.

§205 CLASSROOM WORK AND ATTENDANCE

§205.1 CLASSROOM WORK AND ASSIGNMENTS.—Students are expected to prepare all assignments and to participate in classroom discussions. The instructor may exclude a student from a course for poor classroom performance, for failure to meet attendance requirements, for improper conduct in the classroom, or for failure to prepare assignments. In such cases the student will receive a failing grade (WF) in the course.

§205.2 ATTENDANCE.—Regular class attendance is encouraged. Attendance requirements in each course is set by the instructor, who may penalize a student for failure to comply.

§205.3 ABSENCES FROM EXAMINATIONS.—A student unable to take an examination at the time scheduled because of illness or other unavoidable cause may notify the instructor prior to the examination or as soon as possible. Otherwise, a failing grade (WF) in the course will be recorded. The instructor will make arrangements with the student, subject to the dean’s approval, for taking the examination at a later time.

§206 GRADES AND CREDITS

§206.1 MINIMUM PASSING GRADE.—The minimum passing grade is *Unless a smaller number will meet residence and graduation requirements.
60 in a graded course and "Credit" in an ungraded course. No credit will be given for courses with lower grades. (An average of 70 in graded courses is necessary for graduation; see §210.2.)

§206.2 Method of Computing Averages.—The grade in a course will be weighted by the semester-hours in the course. The computation will include marks from all courses in which the student has taken the final examination or received a final grade, regardless of whether credit in a particular course is necessary to meet the requirements for graduation. When a course is repeated, both grades will be used in the computation. A WF will be counted as a 40. Ordinarily, only courses in this law school will be used in the computation.

§206.3 Ungraded Credit (Pass/Fail) Election.—
(A) Election. A student may elect a maximum of five semester-hours of ungraded (pass/fail) credit in courses for which graded credit is otherwise given. The time period within which the election may be made for a particular course is indicated each semester in the registration materials furnished each student. Election of pass/fail is irrevocable after the last day of classes.

(B) Courses Eligible. The student may choose any nonrequired courses, subject to (C) below.

(C) Instructor's Conditions. By announcement before registration (and before preregistration, if any is held) an instructor may

1) prohibit ungraded credit students in a course or

2) limit the proportion of ungraded credit students in a course.

(D) Determination of Credit. An ungraded credit student will receive credit only if the student

1) completes all required work at a level equivalent to 60 for a graded student and

2) satisfies attendance requirements.

A student who receives credit is not entitled to know his or her grade equivalent.

(E) Relation to Regularly Ungraded Courses. This election is in addition to courses which regularly give ungraded credit to all students, subject to the overall limit in (F).

(F) Maximum Ungraded Hours. A student may not count toward graduation more than 15 hours of ungraded credit.

§207 Residence

Six residence credits are required for graduation. One residence credit will be given for each Fall or Spring Semester in which the student registers for at least 10 semester-hours and passes at least nine. Fractional credit will be given (a) for passing fewer hours than nine during a regular semester and (b) for Summer Sessions. However, no more than one-half of a residence credit may be awarded for a Summer Session. No residence credit is given for a repeated course if credit was given when the course was previously taken.
§208 WITHDRAWAL AND READMISSION

§208.1 WITHDRAWAL.—A student may voluntarily withdraw from the School of Law before noon on the last day of classes in a semester or Summer Session. In this event, no credit will be given for work in any class, and a notation of withdrawal (W) will be entered on the student’s record.

§208.2 READMISSION OF FORMER STUDENTS.—Students who withdraw while in good standing will be readmitted, without re-examination of their entrance credentials, subject to these limitations:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Work Completed at Withdrawal</th>
<th>Deadline for Reentry (after date of withdrawal)</th>
<th>Semester in which Reentry Permitted</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Less than one semester</td>

<tr>
<td>One semester</td>
<td>24 calendar months</td>

<td>24 calendar months</td>
<td>Fall, spring, or summer</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The stated deadlines are extended by any time spent after withdrawal in active U.S. military service or as a licensed and practicing lawyer in any state in the U.S.

Students who apply for readmission after the stated deadlines must meet the admission and graduation requirements in effect at the date of readmission.

§209 ACADEMIC PROBATION AND DISMISSAL

In this section “semester” does not include the summer session; “upperclass student” means one whose overall grade average at the end of the first two semesters is 70 or more, or who is permitted to begin a fourth semester under §209.1 or §209.4; “first-year student” means one who is not an upperclass student. For the method of computing grade averages, see §206.2.

§209.1 FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS.

(A) A first-year student whose overall grade average at the end of the first semester is less than 60 is automatically dismissed.

(B) A first-year student whose overall grade average at the end of the first two semesters is less than 68 is automatically dismissed.

(C) A first-year student whose overall grade average at the end of the first two semesters is 68 or more but less than 70 shall be on probation. A first-year student on probation is automatically dismissed unless at the end of the third semester the overall grade average is 70 or more, or unless the student obtains a grade average for that semester of 72 or more.

§209.2 UPPERCLASS STUDENTS.

(A) An upperclass student whose overall grade average is less than 68 is automatically dismissed.

(B) An upperclass student whose overall grade average is 68 or more but less than 70 shall be on probation.

§209.3 Transfer Students.
A student admitted with advance standing upon transfer from another law school shall be subject to the same scholastic requirements as an upperclass student.

§209.4 Readmission.

§210 REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREE

§210.1 Residence.—The residence requirements in §207 above must be met. Except for students admitted with advanced standing (§202.5) 80 semester-hours credit must be earned at this school.

§210.2 Hours and Grades.—Candidates must earn 90 semester-hours credit (i.e., grades of 60 or higher in graded courses or “Credit” in non-graded courses) with an overall average of 70 or more in graded courses. For maximum number of ungraded hours which may be counted, see §206.3(F).

§210.3 Courses.
(A) The following required courses must be completed: Constitutional Law I and II, Constitutional Criminal Procedure, Contracts I and II, Criminal Law, Code of Professional Responsibility (or approved substitute), Evidence, Legislative and Administrative Process, Procedure I and II, Property I and II, Research Methods and Legal Writing I and II, and Torts I and II.

(B) A candidate must receive two writing units by completing papers in two courses (of at least two hours) in which at least 75 percent of the final grade is based on written work other than an examination. One unit for this requirement may be met by two or three hours of directed research. A student may receive credit for a maximum of one unit for one or more publishable comments written for a law journal. The paper requirement is not met by Research Methods/Legal Writing or Moot Court.

§210.4 Time Limit.—All requirements must be met in the School of Law, or another approved law school, within 72 months from commencing law school. In computing the period, there shall be excluded any time during which the candidate was in active U.S. military service or was a licensed and practicing lawyer in any state of the United States.

§210.5 Effect of Changes in Requirements.—Except as stated in §208.2 above, a student must meet the residence, hours, and grade requirements (§§210.1-.2 above) in effect at the time that the student enters. The student will not be affected by later changes in these requirements. Other requirements may be changed from time to time with such applicability as the faculty determines.

§210.6 WAIVERS.—Waiver of requirements may, for good cause, be granted by the faculty or, in some instances, the Curriculum Committee. Requests should be made in writing, with all relevant information and reasons, to the chairman of the Curriculum Committee.

§211 HONORS

The Order of the Coif is a national law-school scholastic honor society. Not more than 10 percent of all graduates during the academic year may be elected to membership by vote of the faculty. Formerly, The Order of the Woolsack was the School of Law’s honor society and had the same standards for election as The Order of the Coif.

Candidates for the J.D. degree having superior grades may by vote of the faculty be awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude. No one shall be eligible for honors who shall have taken elsewhere more than one-third of the work offered for the degree. The average grade shall be based on work done in this school only, but to receive the degree with honors a transfer from another law school must have at least a B average in law courses at the school previously attended. Normally, the minimum grade averages for honors are: cum laude—83, magna cum laude—87, summa cum laude—90.
§III COMBINED J.D./M.B.A. PROGRAM

§301 NATURE OF THE PROGRAM

The combined J.D./M.B.A. program is offered jointly by the School of Law and the Graduate Division of the Edwin L. Cox School of Business. The program is designed for law practice with a strong business background and for business careers with a strong legal background. Through the program the combined degree may be obtained in four academic years. Separately they would require four and a half academic years.

This program has been established so that an individual may integrate his or her educational experience in law and business. Since management personnel and corporate attorneys have their individual considerations and goals, by taking law and business courses simultaneously the student may achieve an understanding of commercial affairs from two different points of view.

§302 STRUCTURE OF THE PROGRAM

GENERAL.—For the two degrees, the program requires that the student satisfactorily complete the following semester-hours of course work:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Law</th>
<th>Business</th>
<th>Total</th>

CROSS-CREDIT.—Under the structure of the dual program the School of Law will award four hours of academic credit toward the J.D. degree (90 hours) for satisfactory completion of the academic requirements of the M.B.A. program. Similarly, the Edwin L. Cox School of Business will award 12 hours of academic credit toward the M.B.A. degree (48 hours) for satisfactory completion of the academic requirements of the J.D. program.

Section V: The Graduate School of American and Foreign Law

§501 OBJECTIVES OF GRADUATE LEGAL STUDIES

The Graduate School of American and Foreign Law, in offering programs of advanced study beyond the first degree in law, is designed to broaden the student's understanding of the Anglo-American legal system and its place in the world and to offer opportunity for study to those interested in international and foreign legal problems. To achieve its objectives the school offers opportunities for study and research in the following areas:

1. advanced study in Anglo-American law;
2. an intensive course of study in international and foreign legal problems for United States lawyers; and
3. one-year courses of specialized legal training in international law, comparative law, and basic principles of Anglo-American law for lawyers from foreign countries.

The programs of the Graduate School of American and Foreign Law offer to lawyers an opportunity for more productive careers in the private practice of law, in teaching, and in public service. The programs are designed to meet varying needs of the legal community by (1) affording intensive training on the graduate level in fields of law which have become highly specialized in modern practice; (2) increasing the student's understanding of the philosophy and history of law and of the administration of justice; (3) broadening the student's background through a study of comparative and international law; (4) encouraging research and writing in law and related fields; and (5) offering specialized instruction to practicing lawyers as a part of the plan for continuing education of the bar.

Graduate study is open to lawyers who are graduates of approved law schools. Classes are scheduled not only during the day but also during the evening, since it is an objective of the graduate school to foster graduate study for the practicing lawyer.

§502 DEGREES OFFERED

§502.1 MASTER OF LAWS (LL.M.).—This program offers lawyers previously trained in Anglo-American law an opportunity to broaden their background in law in certain specialized areas of the law by enrolling in advanced courses and seminars and engaging in specialized research.

§502.2 Master of Comparative Law (M.C.L.).—This program is designed to offer to foreign lawyers not trained in Anglo-American law an opportunity to acquire knowledge of the legal system and political and legal institutions of the United States as well as of international legal problems. Lawyers previously trained in Anglo-American law are not eligible for this program or for this degree.

§502.3 Doctor of the Science of Law (S.J.D.).—The doctoral program provides to outstanding students, primarily those in the academic field or interested in entering the academic field, an opportunity for advanced study and extended research in specialized areas of the law.

§503 History and Scope

§503.1 General Graduate Studies.—The School of Law inaugurated the program of general graduate legal studies in 1950. This program is designed to meet the need for continuing development in the law caused by the changes and stresses of the modern era. Initially, the offerings were limited, with specialized curricula in areas of interest to Southwestern lawyers, such as oil and gas, taxation, and corporate problems. Additions to the program were gradually made. In 1963, a program leading to the doctoral degree in law (S.J.D.) was added to the master of laws (L.L.M.) program.

§503.2 The Law Institute of the Americas.—Established as a graduate division of the School of Law in 1952, the Law Institute of the Americas was a pragmatic experiment in international legal education. It was designed to improve understanding among the peoples of the Americas through study of the law, institutions, and governments of the American nations and to train lawyers to handle the Western Hemisphere's legal problems. The organizers recognized that lawyers generally are among the leading arbiters of policies, both national and international, and believed that intercultural exchange would increase the sense of total hemispheric responsibility among future decision-makers. The program of the Law Institute of the Americas was designed to teach civil lawyers of Latin America the fundamental approaches, thought patterns, theories, and terminology of Anglo-American common law. At the same time, the Law Institute undertook to teach common lawyers of Canada and the United States the fundamental approaches, thought patterns, theories, and terminology of Latin American civil law. Both groups were combined in comparative courses of constitutional and commercial law and in courses dealing with the international law of the Americas, known as inter-American regional law.

§503.3 The Academy of American Law.—The success of the Law Institute of the Americas led to the establishment of the Academy of American Law to provide a comprehensive program of study in the theory and practice of American political and legal institutions and the American legal system to lawyers from outside the Western Hemisphere who have not received training in Anglo-American law. Students are introduced to the basic processes and instructions of American law. Stress also has been placed on the evolution of constitutional principles essential to the development of human freedom and upon international law and the establishment of an orderly framework for international relations.

Lawyer-students in this program have come from Africa, Asia, and Europe. Like the Latin Americans, they have benefited from increased knowledge and from living in the United States and learning of its multifaceted society. Students from Canada, the United States, and Latin America have learned to appreciate the scholarship and ability of lawyers from outside this hemisphere.

§504 DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

§504.1 Master of Laws (LL.M.).—To receive the degree of master of laws the student must meet the following requirements:

1. Residence in the School of Law for not less than two semesters if a full-time student and not less than four semesters if a part-time student.

2. Completion of 24 semester-hours in courses, seminars, or research and writing. The research and writing may be equivalent to ten, eight, or four semester-hours leading to an approved dissertation. No credit will be given for courses or seminars with a grade below 70. The student must have an average grade of 80 on all courses taken. The requisite grade-point average of 80 must be obtained in the first 24 hours of courses or thesis undertaken, subject to such meritorious exceptions as the Graduate Committee sees fit to make.

3. Completion of at least four semester-hours (within this 24-hour requirement) in the field of the general theory of law. If the student has previously completed such a theory course, completion of only two hours of general theory is required.

With prior approval, the student may take not more than four hours of the required work in graduate programs of the School of Humanities and Sciences, in Perkins School of Theology, or in the Edwin L. Cox School of Business. In particular, a student will benefit from courses in economics and theology in which there is considerable jurisprudential content. Law school credit will be given on completion of all work to the instructor's satisfaction, but the grades will not be used in computing a student's law school average.

4. Preparation of a dissertation by those students wanting partial research and writing credit. This dissertation must be written under the direction of a professor and must be approved by both the professor and the Committee on Graduate Legal Studies. After the dissertation is approved by the professor under whose direction it is written, the dissertation must reach the committee in quadruplicate at least 60 days before the date on which the candidate seeks to receive the degree. It is recommended that the dissertation be in a form suitable for publication. The dissertation must comply with the instructions published by the committee; instructions are available from the committee.

5. Specialized master of laws degrees in Taxation, in Corporate and Commercial Law, and in Comparative and International Law will be given to those students who complete 18 hours out of the total 24 hours in the particular specialized area.

6. All requirements must be completed within 36 months from the date of initial registration as a graduate student, unless the candidate is continuously enrolled as a part-time student, in which case all requirements must be completed within 60 months.

§504.2 Master of Comparative Law (M.C.L.).—The requirements for this degree include the completion of 24 hours of credit from the courses or seminars selected after consultation with the Committee on Graduate Legal Studies. The degree is awarded to those students who complete the course work with an average grade of 70. No credit will be given for courses or seminars with a grade below 60.

§504.3 Doctor of the Science of Law (S.J.D.).—Persons who have completed the requirements for the master of laws degree or the master of comparative law degree with distinction, or who have engaged in law teaching or the practice of law for five years and demonstrated legal scholarship by writings of high merit, may be admitted to candidacy for the S.J.D. degree. A candidate for the doctoral degree ordinarily will be in residence for one year and enroll in at least four semester-hours of courses (two hours in legal philosophy and two hours in comparative legal theory or international law). These requirements may be waived by the Committee on Graduate Legal Studies when the candidate has completed work at the master's level in this institution. The candidate must, within 60 months after completion of the residence requirement for the S.J.D. degree, satisfactorily complete a thesis in publishable form and pass an oral examination on the thesis topic and related subjects.

§505 Admission

§505.1 Students Who Are Candidates for Degrees.—The S.J.D. degree and the LLM. degree require extensive previous training in the common-law system. Applicants for admission to candidacy for these degrees must have obtained an undergraduate law degree, normally from an approved school of Anglo-American law. The applicant must have an undergraduate law-school record displaying scholarly aptitude or must demonstrate ability to engage in graduate legal studies.

The foreign applicant for the M.C.L. degree must be a graduate of a foreign law school of standing comparable to those approved by the Section of Legal Education of the American Bar Association. The applicant's undergraduate law record must demonstrate scholarly aptitude and proficiency in the English language.
§505.2 Students Who Are Not Candidates for Degrees.—A limited number of members of the bar who do not seek advanced degrees may be admitted to advanced seminar courses. Auditors are not permitted, as all students must participate in the work of the course, prepare assignments, and take examinations.

§505.3 Application for Admission.—Application for admission by United States applicants should be made to Secretary of Admissions, School of Law, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas 75275. Application forms will be mailed upon request. An applicant must include with the application a letter stating the purpose for which the student wishes to do graduate work. Completed applications should be received by June 1 of the year of intended enrollment.

Application for admission by foreign students may be made to the Institute of International Education through the Committee for Study and Training in the United States in the candidate's country, if the institute has a connection with the country, in September or October of the year preceding that of intended enrollment. The address of the committee can be obtained from the Cultural Affairs Officer at the United States Embassy or from the nearest U.S. consular office. Application may also be made directly to Secretary of Admissions, School of Law, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas 75275, U.S.A. Application forms will be sent upon request. Applications shall include the age of applicant; a short curriculum vitae; statement of proficiency in English; a certified transcript of grades received in law school, in English; letters of recommendation from the dean of the law school and from a law professor; and a recent head-and-shoulders photograph of the applicant.

All foreign students are required to carry the SMU-approved student health insurance policy. Cost of the policy is approximately $69 a year and appropriate forms and applications may be obtained from the insurance office of the Memorial Health Center.

§506 Fellowships

Fellowships providing tuition are available each year to a very limited number of highly qualified students from abroad. Attention of foreign applicants is directed to the fact that the Graduate School of American and Foreign Law has no funds to grant for travel expenses, either to or from the United States or within the United States, nor does it have any administrative influence through which government or private agencies can be persuaded to assist in travel.

§507 Tuition and Fees

For tuition and fees, see §103 and the catalogue supplement, Financial Information—SMU—1978-79.

§508 Specialized Areas of Concentration

In order to meet the needs of the legal profession the Graduate School of American and Foreign Law has sought to create courses and Graduate Legal Studies

Seminars in various areas of concentration. Advanced graduate study in these specialized fields should impart additional skill and knowledge to today's lawyer to augment the lawyer's professional competence and aid the advancement of his or her career. Thus, the student, upon beginning graduate study, normally will select a program from the following areas and courses. Any dissertation which the student prepares should be directed toward the area of specialization. Each graduate student will select a program after careful consultation with the chairman of the Committee on Graduate Legal Studies so that the program can be arranged to meet the student's individual needs.

It should be noted that some of the courses and seminars set out below are not offered each year. A special schedule of courses is published before the beginning of each semester. The student should consult these schedules for actual offerings of each semester.
