INTRODUCTION

To the President ad interim, Members of the Board of Trustees, Members of the Board of Visitors, Faculty, Students, Graduates, and Friends of the School of Law of Southern Methodist University.

This Report reviews the 1985-86 academic year of the School of Law of Southern Methodist University, the 61st in its history and my sixth and last as its Dean. In January 1986, having been a member of the SMU Law School faculty since 1978 and its dean since 1980, I announced my resignation to accept the deanship of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, effective July 1, 1986. SMU began the search for a new dean immediately, and I am pleased to report that by the end of the academic year it had designated Kenneth Lawing Penegar, Dean of the University of Tennessee Law School, to succeed me, thus enabling the School to effect a smooth administrative transition. A strong administrator and able scholar and teacher, Dean Penegar comes to SMU with the skills and experience to lead it effectively as it continues the growth and progress that have characterized its history since its founding in 1925.

The academic year 1985-86 was no exception, as the school continued to grow in strength and quality.

The following are a few of the significant events of the year:

The creation of a new week-long orientation program for first-year students;

The establishment of a Chair in Real Estate Law, the School's fourth endowed chair, thanks to a pledge of $1,000,000 from an anonymous donor;

The appointment of Richard J. Pierce, Jr., as the George W. Hutchison Professor of Energy Law;

The creation of the Council for Excellence in the Study of Law, consisting of 12 law firms who had pledged a total of $635,000 in support of the School;

The strengthening and expansion of the Hatton W. Sumners Scholarship program, thanks to a commitment of $825,000 from the Hatton W. Sumners Foundation;

The inauguration of the Distinguished Law Alumnus award and its presentation to Charles E. Long, Jr. ('35), James L. Noel Jr. ('38), and Herbert S. Kendrick ('60); and,

The receipt by the School of total annual and endowment gifts and pledges in excess of $2,966,379.

The following pages will describe in detail the activities of the 1985-86 academic year. I should emphasize that the School's achievements were not only due to the talents and hard work of our faculty, staff, and students, but also to the extraordinary spirit of cooperation that pervades the Law Quadrangle and to the strong support received from the University administration, alumni, legal profession, and friends of the Law School.

FACULTY

The School's most important resource is its faculty, a group of highly talented individuals, who are strongly committed to both teaching and research. In my six years as Dean, I have been pleased to observe it grow in size and quality. During the academic year 1985-86, full-time faculty members at the School numbered thirty-one, as compared with 26 in 1980 when I became Dean. In addition, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs C. Paul Rogers III, Associate Dean for Clinical Education Roark M. Reed, and I each taught the equivalent of one-half the teaching load of a full-time professor. The School had a faculty/student ratio of 1/26.5, as compared to 1/31.5 six years ago. I continue to believe that the School's goal in this regard should be 1/24.

Linda S. Eads joined the full-time faculty as Assistant Professor of Law beginning in the Spring Semester 1986. Professor Eads received her B.A. degree from American University and her J.D. degree from the University of Texas. Following graduation from Law School, Professor Eads joined the U.S. Department of Justice, where she rose to the rank of Senior Trial Attorney in the Tax Division, Criminal Section, received the Outstanding Attorney Award, and also served as Acting Chief of the Office of Special Litigation of the Tax Division.

Visiting faculty bring the School new perspectives and insights which significantly enhance the academic program. During the Fall Semester, the School was pleased to have the services of Visiting Professor Daniel J. Wiles, who taught Income Taxation while on a teaching sabbatical from the Internal Revenue Service. During the Spring Semester, Visiting Associate Professor John William Cairns from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, taught Comparative Law and Jurisprudence; and Visiting Assistant Professor Sharon N. Freytag, on leave from the Dallas firm of Haynes & Boone for the full academic year, taught courses on Civic Procedure and Products Liability.

Several members of our faculty were on leave during the 1985-86 academic year. University Distinguished Professor Alan R. Bromberg took a sabbatical to work on a Securities Fraud treatise (soon to be published in five volumes) and to prepare a new treatise on partnership law. Professor Walter W. Steele, Jr., received a sabbatical leave to serve as Special Assistant United States Attorney in the Criminal Division of the Office of the U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Texas, to gain experience working as a prosecutor and thereby broaden his understanding of the criminal justice process. Professor John E. Kennedy was on sabbatical leave for the academic year to complete a book on the law of class actions. Professor Henry J. Lischer, Jr., was granted a sabbatical leave for the fall of 1985 to revise teaching materials and to engage in research on taxation, and Professor Peter Winship took a leave of absence during the spring of 1986 to teach at the UCLA School of Law as a Visiting Professor. Professor Robert Brousseau extended his leave for an additional semester, at the end of which time he resigned from the faculty to join a Dallas law firm.

To strengthen the ability of the School to attract highly rated, experienced faculty, the School in 1980 embarked on an effort to raise funds for endowed chairs. By the end of 1985-86, it had acquired its fourth chair, thanks to a pledge of $1 million from an anonymous donor. At the same time, it was pleased to announce the appointment of Richard J. Pierce, Jr., as the George W. Hutchison Professor of Energy Law. Former Dean of the University of Pittsburgh Law School and W.R. Irby Professor of Law and Director, Energy Law Program at Tulane, Professor Pierce promises to strengthen an already strong faculty.

Teaching, research, and public service by faculty during 1985-86 continued to attain high levels of productivity. Indeed, one of the developments which gave me the greatest pleasure during my six years as Dean was the steady growth in quality and quantity of research and publications by faculty. This activity enriched the education program of the School, contributed to the development of the law, and heightened the reputation and prestige of SMU Law School. Since 1980, the faculty has written 74 books and approximately 230 articles, in addition to numerous teaching materials for classroom use at the School. Appendix A of this report details research and public service activity for the 1985-86 academic year.

Professor Howard J. Taubensfeld won the Dr. Don M. Smart Teaching Award for 1985-86, a cash prize of $3,500 to the best classroom teacher, based on the opinion of students and recent graduates. The 1985-86 Dr. Don M. Smart Prize for Directed Research, a prize of $3,000, was shared equally by Professor Thomas W. Mayo and the second-year student Emily S. Barbour-Wilson for her paper "Deciding Hard Cases: Billy Budd, Eichman in Jerusalem, and the Moral Dimension of Judging."

The Faculty Forum Program, initiated in 1981 and administered during 1985-86 by Professor Earl C. Borgeson, Director of Underwood Law Library, held nine sessions during the year. The program allows faculty to discuss their work in progress and also meet with scholars from other institutions. Presentations were well attended and included:

Professor Beverly M. Carl

"Economic Law in Cuba and Burma: A Comparison of Commercial Law in Two Socialist Countries"

Visiting Professor Daniel J. Wiles

"The Privilege against Self-Incrimination Today: The Production Tail Wagging the Documentary Dog?"

Professor Bernard Rudden, Oxford University

"Why Is There No Freedom of Contract in Property Law?"

Professor Peter Winship

"Lex Mercatoria"

Professor Charles J. Morris

"APA Rulemaking by the NLRB — Is the Time Finally Ripe?"

Professor Martin D. Begleiter, Drake University

"Current Professional Responsibility Issues in Wills, Trusts, and Estate Planning"

Professor Vincent R. Johnson, St. Mary's University

"Recent Developments in Defamation Law".

Visiting Associate Professor John W. Cairns

"Alfenus Varus and the Faculty of Advocates".

Chien-Shien Wang, Vice Minister, Ministry of Economic Affairs, The Republic of China

"Trade and Tax Policy in Taiwan and Other Developing Nations".

THE STUDENT BODY

The School of Law enrolled a total of 833 students during 1985-86. They were distributed among the various years and programs as follows:

J.D. 1st year	247
J.D. 2nd year	227
J.D. 3rd year	210
Graduate	118
Specials	11
JD/MBA	9
Transients	11
	833

Women students numbered 322 and accounted for 39 percent of the student body. Since 1980, the School has sought to diversify its student body and has made considerable progress in this regard. During 1985-86, minorities (Blacks, Mexican-Americans, and native Americans) numbered 74 as compared with 19 six years ago. Increased recruitment activity and augmented financial aid have been principal causes of these results. Of particular importance is the Sarah T. Hughes Minority Fellowship Program, created by the Dallas Bar Association with funding from the Dallas Bar Foundation. The School's international program also brings it great diversity. In 1985-86, the student body included 53 foreign students.

The J.D. class entering in the fall of 1985 had a mean uniform grade-point average of 3.20 (on a scale of 4), and a mean Law School Admissions Test Score of 37. These first-year students came to the School from 28 states, the District of Columbia and Canada, and they completed their undergraduate studies at 100 different colleges and universities — 18 in Texas and 82 in other states.

The Master of Laws (LL.M.) program enrolled a total of 17 full-time and 35 part-time students, most of whom specialized in taxation. The LL.M. (International and Comparative Law) program included 49 foreign lawyers from 25 countries.

In 1985-86, the School received 1,376 applications for admission to the J. D. Program for August 1986. The following chart summarizes the application process during the year as compared with the six previous years. The number of applications for the 1986 entering class was approximately 10 percent less than that received for entry in August of 1985. As the "baby boom" generation has aged and as the birth rate in the United States has fallen, applications to law schools have begun to decline throughout the country and are expected to continue to do so for the foreseeable future. While SMU has experienced a slight decline in applications over the last two years, the quality of the entering class as measured by LSAT scores has remained constant.

In order to respond to a perceived need in the community, the Law School, after careful study, decided to establish a part-time program of legal study in the Juris Doctor program for well-qualified applicants unable to attend law school on a full-time basis. Admission to the part-time program is more selective than the full-time program. Inaugurated with the August 1985 entering class, the part-time program enrolled ten students in its first year.

The School's level of tuition, which was $9,300 in 1985-86, remains a matter of concern in recruiting a high-quality, diverse student body. While tuition increases in recent years have been accompanied by programmatic improvements, high tuition may preclude many talented persons from attending SMU unless they receive financial assistance. Thanks to the generosity of the School's alumni and friends, our financial aid program has grown substantially. In 1985-86, total scholarship assistance to our students from Law School sources amounted to approximately $902,224, as compared with $125,742 in 1980.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Principal programs of the School of Law are the three-year Juris Doctor (J.D.) program, requiring 90 hours of course work, the Master of Laws (LL.M.) program, requiring 24 hours of course work, and the LL.M. (Comparative and International Law) program for foreign lawyers, requiring 24 hours of credit. In addition to those programs and to the research degree of Doctor of the Science of Law (S.J.D.), the School of Law offers a joint-degree program, the JD/MBA degree, in cooperation with the Edwin L. Cox School of Business.

In the 1985-86 academic year, the School conferred 216 J.D. degrees, 34 LL.M. degrees, 38 Master of Laws degrees (Comparative & International Law), one degree of Doctor of the Science of Law, and three Diplomas in International Studies. The chart on page 8 reflects comparative data with respect to degrees conferred during the period of 1976-1986. The curriculum during the regular school year consisted of 174 sections of courses and seminars, and the 1985 summer session included 6 sections.

The School also conducted its summer program at University College, Oxford, England, for the second straight year. Professor Peter Winship directed the program and Professors Joseph W. McKnight and Frederick C. Moss participated. Eleven students were enrolled in the program.

Students in the second and third years found a curriculum that was enriched by the addition of six new courses: "Air Law," offered by Charles Tarpley, Esq.; "Corporate Tax Planning," by Professor Daniel Q. Posin; "Legal Protection of Computer Software," by David C. Godbey, Esq.; "Perspectives of U.S. Taxation of Foreign Investments in the United States," by Julian Nihill, Esq.; "Psychiatric and Psychological Evidence," by Professor Daniel W. Shuman and Dr. Kevin W. Karlson; and "Selected Problems in Administrative Law," by Professor Charles J. Morris.

First-year students encountered a greatly expanded and enriched orientation program. Developed by Ms. Elizabeth Thornburg, a 1979 SMU graduate and Director of Legal Research and Writing, the orientation program lasted a week and included an overview of the judicial system, faculty-led discussions of case analysis and briefing, lectures on legislative and administrative process, an introduction to legal research, and sample law school classes. On the personal side, orientation included tours of campus, suggestions on study methods, and opportunities to meet law school faculty and fellow students in informal social settings.

The clinical program, under the supervision of Associate Dean Roark M. Reed, continued to give students an opportunity to work on real cases while providing a service to actual clients. It consisted of six components: the Civil Cases Clinic, the Criminal Justice Clinic, the Federal Taxpayers Clinic, the Appellate Clinic, the Elder Law Project (legal matters for elderly citizens of Dallas), and the Legal Extern Program. The Civil Cases Clinic, directed by Assistant Professor Maxine T. McConnell-Tobin, handled 188 clients, many of whom had more than one legal problem, ranging from consumer issues to domestic relations. Ms. Brenda J. Garrett served as Associate Director of the Civil Cases Clinic. Students represented clients in District, County and Justice Courts and before administrative agencies. During 1985-86, the students in the Criminal Justice Clinic handled a total of approximately 900 cases, including 18 jury trials. This Clinic, which is devoted to misdemeanors, continues to be an integral part of the Dallas County criminal justice system. The Federal Taxpayers Clinic, directed by Bruce B. Hart, enabled students to have firsthand experiences by representing persons subject to audit by the Internal Revenue Service. During 1985-86, the Tax Clinic examined a total of 319 cases and accepted the representation of 45 clients. It remains a model, recognized by the I.R.S. and the U.S. Tax Court, for similar clinics in the country.

Through the Legal Extern Program, a total of 61 students gained experience in government and business offices off campus.

In 1985-86, the School continued two new clinical programs: an Appellate Clinic to handle both Civil and Criminal Appeals, and an Elder Law project operated in conjunction with the Civil Clinic. The former is funded by the U.S. Department of Education and the latter by the Legal Services Corporation. Students in the Appellate Clinic filed briefs in 14 cases and argued 9 cases before Texas Appellate Courts. Mr. J. Thomas Sullivan, a 1976 SMU graduate, was Director of the Appellate Clinic, and Ms. Amy S. Isaminger, a 1977 alumna, directed the program for Legal Services to the Elderly.

Several distinguished scholars and jurists visited the School of Law to deliver lectures or speeches during the year. They included Professor G. Edward White from the University of Virginia, who presented the Roy R. Ray Lecture entitled "From Realism to Critical Legal Studies: A Truncated Intellectual History"; the Honorable John C. Godbold, Chief Judge, United States Court of Appeals for the 11th Judicial Circuit, who delivered the Alfred P. Murrah Lecture entitled "Managing a Court; or, Fancy Footwork Dodging the Sacred Cows"; Professor Bernard Rudden, Professor of Comparative Law at the University of Oxford and Fellow of Brasenose, who spoke at a Faculty Forum on "Why Is There No Freedom of Contract in Property Law?"; Professor Martin Begleiter from Drake University School of Law, who spoke on "Current Professional Responsibility Issues in Wills, Trusts, and Estate Planning"; the Honorable Willis D. Gradison, Member of Congress, who delivered the 1986 Touche Ross Lecture entitled "1986 — The Year for Decision on Tax Reform and Budget"; and Chien-Shien Wang, Vice Minister of Economic Affairs, The Republic of China, who spoke on "Trade and Tax Policy in Taiwan and Other Developing Nations."

The SMU Law School with the Public Finance Training Institute of the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of China sponsored the second Academy of International Taxation during the summer of 1985. Professors Beverly M. Carl, Werner F. Ebke, Henry J. Lischer, Jr., and John J. Mylan participated.

In order to help maintain the quality and relevance of the Law School's academic program, the SMU Law School's Board of Visitors, since 1964, has met at least once a year on the campus to review the program and meet with faculty and students. A distinguished group of jurists, the fifteen-member Board held its meeting on March 20, 1986. Its members included the following:

SYMPOSIA AND PUBLICATION

SMU School of Law conducted an extensive and highly successful continuing legal education program during the year. The number of programs was increased to fifteen from nine the previous year. Law School faculty were involved as chairpersons, co-chairpersons or speakers in all fifteen programs. These programs included:

The Second "Age of Reindustrialization" Short Course on Labor Law, August 12-16, 1985, Colorado Springs, Colorado, Professor Charles J. Morris, Chairperson;

Labor Board at Mid-Century, October 2-4, 1985, Washington, D.C., Professor Charles J. Morris, Chairperson;

Doctors, Lawyers, and Clergy: The Meaning of Professional Responsibility Today, October 24, 1985, Dallas, Texas, Dean Jeswald W. Salacuse, Chairperson;

Environmental Law Implications of Business Activities, November 7-8, 1985, Dallas, Texas, Professor Jeffrey M. Gaba, Chairperson;

Fifth Circuit Federal Appellate Practice & Advocacy Seminar, November 21-22, 1985, Dallas, Texas, Professor John E. Kennedy, Co-Chairperson;

Second Annual Short Course on Law of Banking Institutions, December 2-6, 1985, Dallas, Texas, Professor Joseph J. Norton, Chairperson;

Eighth Annual Estate Planning Institute, January 23-24, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Professor Regis W. Campfield, Chairperson;

Civil RICO After Sedima, January 30-31, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Associate Dean Roark M. Reed, Chairperson;

Seventh Annual Product Liability Symposium, February 13-14, 1986, Houston, Texas, Vincent S. Walkowiak, Chairperson;

Ninth Biennial Specialists Symposium on Texas Family Law & Community Property, February 27-28, 1986, Houston, Texas, Professor Joseph W. McKnight, Chairperson;

Advanced Civil Trial Short Course, March 13-14, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Professor William V. Dorsaneo III, Chairperson;

NEW Texas Rules of Criminal

Evidence, April 3-4, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Professor Walter W. Steele, Jr., Chairperson;

Fourth Annual Multi-State Labor and Employment Law Seminar, March 21-22, 1986, New Orleans, Louisiana, Professor Charles J. Morris, Co-Chairperson;

Fourth Annual Institute on International Finance, April 16-18, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Professor Joseph J. Norton, Chairperson;

Second Annual Institute on Fundamentals of Commercial Lending, April 28-May 1, 1986, Dallas, Texas, Professor Joseph J. Norton, Chairperson.

Altogether these fifteen programs attracted 2,025 participants from forty-nine states, Washington, D.C., and five foreign countries. Speakers included leading authorities from throughout the United States and five foreign countries. In developing programs, Ms. Elaine Flynn and her staff worked in close cooperation with the Faculty Committee on Continuing Legal Education, chaired by Professor Frederick C. Moss.

The School also hosted the Southern Regional Program of the National Institute of Trial Advocacy for the sixth consecutive year. Directed by Professor Frederick C. Moss, the NITA Southern Regional is an eleven-day program, held on the SMU campus each June to train young lawyers in the skills of litigation. In 1986, 72 lawyers representing twelve states attended the course as students, and 35 lawyers and judges from seven states participated as faculty. Representing SMU on the 1986 faculty were Professors Walter W. Steele, Jr., William V. Dorstaneo III, and Associate Dean Roark M. Reed. Ms. Brenda J. Garrett, Associate Director of SMU's Civil Cases Clinic, was on the faculty as an assistant section leader.

OTHER STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Law School continued to publish its two student-edited law reviews, which serve as both sources of information to the profession and training grounds in legal scholarship for students. The Southwestern Law Journal, founded in 1947 and advised by Professor Roy Ryden Anderson, published six issues during the academic year, including its very popular Annual Survey of Texas Law, and a special issue sponsored by the Texas Bar Foundation containing papers presented at the National Symposium on Judicial Selection and Tenure held in San Antonio on February 21, 1986. The Journal had a circulation of approximately 1,400 subscribers.

The Journal of Air Law and Commerce, advised by Associate Dean C. Paul Rogers III, published four issues. It had a worldwide circulation of approximately 2,200. On February 27-March 1, 1986, The Journal of Air Law and Commerce presented its Twentieth Annual SMU Air Law Symposium, which attracted approximately 650 participants from throughout the United States, six foreign countries, and Puerto Rico, the largest attendance in the history of this event. Dr. Paul E. Garber, Historian of the Air and Space Division of the Smithsonian Institution, delivered the keynote address. The Honorable Jerry Buchmeyer, United States District Judge for the Northern District of Texas, was the luncheon speaker.

In addition to the law reviews, numerous other activities afford SMU law students important and valuable professional training.

The Moot Court Program, advised by Professor Roy Ryden Anderson, is designed to train students in the skills of appellate advocacy. The annual intramural competition, sponsored by the Dallas firm of Jackson, Walker, Winstead, Cantwell & Miller, involved the entire first-year class and was won by the team of Ms. Cynthia Hoff and Mr. Andrew Roberts. Mr. Stephen Gleboff and Ms. Theresa Searles were runners-up. Ms. Hoff was selected as outstanding advocate. Ms. Leah Ann Hurley received the Russell M. Baker Memorial Award for outstanding contributions to the work of the Moot Court Board. Mr. Kent Adams served the year as chairman of the Moot Court Board.

SMU was also active in inter-school moot court competition. In the Texas Young Lawyers Association State Moot Court Competition held in conjunction with the 1985 Convention of the State Bar of Texas, the School was represented by a team sponsored by the Dallas firm of Winstead, McGuire, Sechrest & Minick. Mr. Bryan Forman, Mr. Michael Shau-nessy and Ms. MaryAnn Wymore composed the team. In the Region X National Moot Court Competition held in Houston, the School was represented by a team sponsored by the Dallas firm of Hughes & Luce. Mr. Gregory K. Ackels, Ms. Sandy Stephenson, and Ms. MaryAnn Wymore composed the team. The School of Law also participated in the National Appellate Advocacy Competition. Two teams, composed of Mr. Gregory K. Ackels and Ms. MaryAnn Wymore, and Mr. Greg Marks, Mr. Homer Reynolds, and Mr. David Taylor, represented the School of Law. The teams were sponsored by the Dallas firm of Passman, Jones, Andrews & Holley.

The School of Law also participated in the Southwest Regional of the 1986 Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition. The team was sponsored by the Dallas firm of Shank, Irwin and Conant, and was composed of Jordan C. Feagan, Pedro V. Hernandez, Jr., Mauricio A. Moreno, Beatrice Prati, and Murray J. Rossini.

The School's 1985-86 Mock Trial program consisted of several events. In the Fall, the Trial Advocacy Club, which was advised by Professor Frederick C. Moss and funded by the Geary, Stahl and Spencer law firm, held its eighth annual intramural mock trial competition involving over 100 students from all classes. In the spring, the School sent student mock trial teams to the ABA competition in New Orleans and to the Association of Trial Lawyers of America Competition in Oklahoma City. The two ABA teams were sponsored by the Dallas firm of Strasburger & Price, and the ATLA team was funded by Dallas trial attorney Frank L. Branson ('69).

CAREER SERVICES

Under the direction of Ms. Maureen M. Moore, the placement of SMU law graduates remained vigorous. On-campus recruiting attracted 235 law firms, corporations, and government agencies from fourteen states and the District of Columbia. Collectively, they conducted 4,563 interviews at the School. Another 50 employers invited applications for summer and permanent associate positions via notices filed in the office.

The Office of Career Services again benefited from the support of the Law Alumni Association Student Relations Committee. A career program was presented by alumni engaged in various types of law practice, thereby allowing the students to expand their knowledge of legal career options. Of respondents to the Class of 1985 Employment and Salary Survey, 69 percent remained in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, 19 percent located in other Texas cities, and 12 percent were employed out of state. Eighty-five percent were employed in law firms.

Toward the end of the academic year, Ms. Moore resigned as Director of Career Services and was succeeded by Ms. Carol J. Brown.

UNDERWOOD LAW LIBRARY

On April 30, the Underwood Law Library building celebrated fifteen years of continuous service to the School and the community since its dedication in 1971. The Library is open 5,112 hours each year and is used by approximately 1,000 persons each day. In addition, recorded use by persons not present in the Library includes 207 volumes lent and 12,425 photocopy pages sent in response to 603 requests.

At the end of the academic year, the Library collection included 335,000 volumes and microtext equivalents, having increased by approximately 10,000 volumes during the year. Gifts-in-kind from 54 donors included 4,374 volumes, 263 pamphlets, and 715 periodical issues.

The Library staff consisted of ten professional and thirteen support staff positions, the same number as at the close of the previous year. Sally Wise, Associate Director, resigned from the Library to become Director of the Law Library of the University of Nebraska, and Virginia Templeton left to become Librarian at the law firm of Moore and Peterson. The duties of the Associate Director have been assumed by Oragene Addis and, from the Boston University Law School Library, Kurt Adamson was appointed Associate Director for Collection Development and Reference Services.

Underwood Library is participating in the automation of the SMU library systems. The conversion of catalog records to a machine-readable format is proceeding on schedule. All classified monographs are ready for an automated catalog; foreign and international law materials will be completely classified and converted within the next year.

Two MacIntosh terminals have replaced public typewriters for students in the Library. These machines were a gift of Vial, Hamilton, Koch & Knox, arranged by the Student Bar Association.

Temporary training centers, set up to introduce first-year law students to computer-assisted legal research, brought multiple terminals into the Library Conference Room for one month. Mead Data Central and West Publishing Company were the cooperating vendors; Reference Librarians did the training.

ALUMNI AFFAIRS AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT

The SMU Law Alumni Association Council continued to provide significant leadership throughout the year under its President, Judge David D. Jackson '65. Its committee structure has enhanced opportunities for graduates and students to become involved in the life of the school. Some of the Committee's accomplishments this year were:

Admissions, chaired by Glenn Portman '75, established a network of interested alumni across the country to act as law school contacts with prospective qualified students and to talk with prelaw advisers at major undergraduate schools about SMU. Committee members were Jeffrey S. Lynch '75, George Solares '75, and Lee D. Vendig '55. Volunteers were James N. Cowden '74 (Austin), James W. Hackney '69 (Austin), W. Barton Munro '67 (Bryan), Bruce Stickler '70 (Chicago), and William F. Russell '64 (Lubbock).

Alumni Scholars, chaired by Ernie Specks '55, helped raise scholarship money which allowed six first-year students to matriculate. This program eventually will involve pairing each scholar with an individual attorney who will act as a mentor throughout the year.

Long Range Planning, chaired jointly by Carl W. McKinzie '66 and Edward A. Peterson '66, was charged with reviewing the existing Association programs and helping it to delineate the future needs and long-range goals of the School and Law Alumni Association.

Publications, chaired by Jon Bauman '67, assisted by Jerry B. Williamson '65, reviewed The Brief magazine issues for content, balance, and readability.

Special Events, chaired by Robert G. Vial '50, was kept especially busy this year by organizing the Inaugural Distinguished Alumni Awards and Class Reunion Program, which was held at the Belo Mansion on May 1, Law Day. This event culminated the year-long work of the Inaugural selection committee, a dedicated group of volunteers representing each decade of the School's 60-year history that met throughout the year to determine this year's honorees. The recipients of the first awards were James L. Noel, Jr., '38, Charles E. Long, Jr., '35, and Herbert S. Kendrick '60.

Another major alumni event was the Class Reunion program for classes ending in "1" and "6," chaired by David McLane '66. Over 175 persons attended the Reunion Dinner and Dance held on Saturday, March 22, 1986, at The Chaparral Club in Dallas. Special thanks should be extended to the Reunion class Chairpersons: E. Taylor Armstrong ('31), Louis P. Bickel ('56), Sam P. Burford ('36), Robert K. Carlin ('71), Edith M. Debusk ('41), Roll Fair ('46), H. Mathews Garland ('51), Barry Ross McBee ('81), B. Prater Monning III ('76), Jay W. Ungerman ('61), and J. Michael Wylie ('66).

Student Relations, chaired by Mr. Charles J. McGuire '67, hosted a career program for over 175 students in September 1985 at the R.L. Thornton Alumni Center. The session included Edward S. Koppman '79, speaking on Big vs. Small Firms; Emily A. Parker '73, addressing special Concerns of Women; Tony Bangs '78, on In-House Corporate counsel; Jim Burnham '68, on Government Service; John Esch '67, on Accounting Firms; and Rebecca Hurley '82, speaking on Judicial Clerkships.

Faculty Relations, chaired by John P. Falconer, Jr., is discussing ways of strengthening the relationship between the faculty and alumni.

Numerous other events were held throughout the year. In July 1985, at the annual convention of the State Bar of Texas, Council President Jackson hosted over 100 graduates and their spouses at a reception in Dallas. In September, President Jackson and his wife, Ginger, held the traditional buffet dinner in their home to honor faculty on their return to the School.

In November, the Law Alumni Association Council hosted a reception in Dallas for major donors, those contributing $500 or more to the Law Annual Fund, and conducted telefunds and initial class agent programs in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Austin, and San Antonio. In May, Mr. Charles W. Hall '54, and his wife, Mary, hosted over 100 Houston alumni at a reception held at the River Oaks Country Club.

The School held the first meeting of its newly constituted Executive Board of the Law School in February. The purpose of this group is to provide advice and counsel to the Dean and to create links between the School and its various constituencies. The quality of SMU School of Law is a reflection of the substantial support it receives from graduates and friends. Total annual gifts in 1985-86 amounted to $644,044, the highest in the School's history. Donors designated their gifts to a wide variety of important purposes including student scholarships ($202,025), student services and programs ($30,070), faculty support ($49,573), clinical education ($113,911), the Library ($65,460), and discretionary needs as determined by the Dean ($183,005).

Mr. Robert H. Mow '63, chaired the Law School Fund directed to alumni of the School. Under his direction, following the traditional Fund kickoff by Alumni Council President Jackson, the Law Alumni Telefund was conducted for twelve nights in October from Lawyers Inn, where 112 alumni telephoned classmates generating over $51,000 in pledges from 423 alumni. In all, 1,878 alumni (31 percent) contributed over $246,000 to the Annual Fund for an average gift of $128, down from $143 the previous year. The Eleventh Annual Law Library Fund, chaired by Richard B. Grisham '72 and Robert L. Meyers III, '60, yielded $65,460 from 89 firms and 35 corporations, the largest number of participants and dollar totals from these two groups in the School's history. Support from law firms, attorneys, friends, organizations and foundations significantly strengthened the School's Moot Court ($16,000) and Trial Advocacy ($7,600) and Awards ($6,470) programs.

As part of the Capital Campaign, the Law School established The Council for Excellence in the Study of Law as a means to allow law firms to assist in sustaining the quality of the School as a national center of private legal education. Each member firm of The Council has made a major addition to the School's endowment in a manner that does not prejudice annual support. Income from the endowment will support evolving needs of the School not met by tuition, fees, University and annual support. By the end of the academic year, the Council made total commitments to the School of $635,000 and consisted of 12 members:

Davis, Meadows, Owens, Collier & Zachry
 Gardere & Wynne
 Haynes & Boone
 Hughes & Luce
 Jackson, Walker, Winstead, Cantwell & Miller
 Johnson & Swanson
 Koons, Rasor, Fuller & McCurley
 Locke, Purnell, Boren, Laney & Neely
 Moore & Peterson
 Rain, Harrell, Emery, Young & Doke
 Thompson & Knight
 Winstead, McGuire, Sechrest & Minick

Other major gifts and commitments during the year included $1,000,000 from an anonymous donor to establish a Chair in Real Estate Law; a gift of $825,000 from the Hatton W. Sumners Fund to strengthen and expand the Hatton W. Sumners Scholarship program; a substantial gift from Mrs. Ann Bower to create the James Elliott Bower Memorial Scholarship Endowment in memory of her son, James Elliott Bower, of the Class of 1974; and a gift to establish the Rupert and Lillian Radford Scholarship Fund.

The School was fortunate to receive an increase of 61 percent to its various programs from foundations this year, with $144,818 in gifts.

In the Decade Ahead capital program, the School received $2,966,379 in additional pledges and payments, bringing the total received in commitments toward the $10.5 million goal to $6,641,175.

By the end of the academic year, the School's endowment was approximately $15 million as compared with approximately $3 million in 1980. The Five-Year (1981-86) Development Plan, adopted in 1981, declared a major increase in endowment to be a principal goal, and I am pleased to report that this objective has been largely attained.

These gratifying results are attributable to the hard work of a great many individuals: alumni, friends, and staff of SMU Law School. Particular mention must be made of the extraordinary contribution of James L. Richardson, Jr., the School's Director of Development since 1982, in establishing the basis for a highly effective fund-raising program. In December 1985, Mr. Richardson resigned from the Law School to enter private business. He has been succeeded by Robert L. Schmitz, formerly director of the highly successful development program at Dallas's Ursuline Academy.

CONCLUSION

The School of Law of Southern Methodist University is in sound condition, and I take pride in having participated in its advancement during the last six years. The achievements of 1985-86, like those of the five previous years, have been the result of a truly collective effort by a great many people: a superb faculty, committed alumni, fine students, a supportive community, and a dedicated and hard-working administrative staff. I owe all a debt of gratitude, but I give special thanks to particular members of the School's administrative staff: Mrs. Jean Jury, whose dedication to the School and its students knows no bounds; Mr. Fred Taylor, who is probably the best financial officer any law school could wish for; Mrs. Kay Crago, who served with great diligence as my secretary throughout my tenure; and, above all, Mrs. Doris Beale, Assistant to the Dean, who worked with me tirelessly and skillfully during every step of the last six years.

Respectfully submitted,

Jeswald Salacuse

ROY RYDEN ANDERSON, Professor of Law (B.A., 1966, Texas Christian University; J.D., 1969, Southern Methodist University; LL.M., 1975, Yale University), taught Contracts I and II, Sale of Goods Transactions and Damages, supervised the School's Moot Court Program, and served as Faculty Adviser to the Southwestern Law Journal and Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity. He prepared a 400-page syllabus and supplementary materials for the course on Sale of Goods Transactions, published an article entitled "Pitfalls for Sellers and Buyers Under the Market Formula of Section 2-708" in The Review of Litigation, and served as a member of the Dean Search Committee and of the Law School Committee on Professional Responsibility.

LACKLAND H. BLOOM, JR., Associate Professor of Law (B.A., 1970, Southern Methodist University; J.D., 1973, University of Michigan), taught Constitutional Law and Torts. He was Chairman of the Law School Admissions Committee, and was the Judicial Clerkship Coordinator. He published a book review, "Senators, Save This Honorable Court?" in 61 Notre Dame L. Rev. 289 (1986).

RICHARD A. BOOTH, Assistant Professor of Law (A.B., 1973, University of Michigan; J.D., 1976, Yale University), taught Business Associations I and II, Securities Regulation, and Corporate Take Overs and Freeze-Outs. His publications and research included "Management Buyouts, Shareholder Welfare and the Limits of Fiduciary Duty," 60 N.Y.U.L. Rev. 63C (1985); "Is There Any Valid Reason Why Target Managers Oppose Tender Offers?," 14 Sec. Reg. L.J. 43 (1986); "Family Corporations: Division on Divorce — Remedies and Theories" in State Bar of Texas, Marriage Dissolution Institute (1986) (with Webb & Kinser); "The Emerging Conflict Between Federal Securities Law and State Corporation Law," forthcoming in 12 J. Corp. L.; and, Fiduciary Duty, Risk-Taking and the Regulation of Business Practice (in progress). Booth was also a regular contributor to Dallas, Inc., the weekly business magazine of the Dallas Times Herald, and is an arbitrator for the National Futures Association. At the end of the academic year, he resigned from

SMU to accept an appointment at Case Western Reserve Law School.

EARL C. BORGESON, Professor of Law and Director of the Law Library (B.S.L. 1947, LL.B., 1949, University of Minnesota; B.S. in Law Librarianship, 1950, University of Washington), was a member of the Law School Chair Search Committee, the Library Committee, the Faculty Senate Committee on Libraries, the Council of Library Directors, and the Program Coordinator for the Law School Faculty Forum.

WILLIAM J. BRIDGE, Associate Professor of Law (B.S.F.S., 1970, J.D., 1974, Georgetown University), taught Criminal Law and Evidence in the fall, and in the spring, Professional Responsibility and The Lawyer as Reader and Writer. He also served on the School's Dean Search Committee. In the summer of 1986, he was a Visiting Associate Professor at Georgetown University, where he taught Evidence.

ALAN R. BROMBERG, University Distinguished Professor of Law (A.B., 1949, Harvard; J.D., 1952, Yale), was on leave, working mainly on a new two-volume treatise on partnership law with coauthor Larry E. Ribstein. With Lewis D. Lowenfels, he wrote the 1986 Supplement to Securities Fraud & Commodities Fraud, which included new chapters on insider trading, handling of corporate acquisition information, and statutes of limitations. As a member of the State Bar Partnership Committee, he helped draft a comprehensive new limited partnership statute which will be presented to the 1987 Texas Legislature. He wrote an amicus brief to the U.S. 2nd Circuit which was a factor in an important decision by that court on the disclosure required in corporate proxy statements for election of directors. A member of the American Law Institute and the editorial boards of several corporate and securities journals, and a nationally recognized authority on corporate and securities law, he was quoted in the Wall Street Journal and New York Times as well as several local publications. Chairing the Educational Publications Advisory Board of Matthew Bender & Co., he reviewed book proposals for that publisher. He took a few weeks off from the law to travel the Sepik River and Highlands of Papua, New Guinea.

JOHN W. CAIRNS, Visiting Associate Professor of Law (LL.B., 1977, Ph.D., 1981, University of Edinburgh), taught Jurisprudence II and Comparative Law I in Spring 1986. recht will appear in the Spring 1987 issue of the prestigious ZEITSCHRIFT FUER UNTERNEHMENS- UND GESELLSCHAFTSRECHT. His articles Zu den Verhaltenspflichten der Kreditinstitute gegenueber (sanierungsbeduerftigen) Kunden im U.S.-amerikanischen Recht and The Limited Partnership and Transnational Combinations of Business Forms: "Delaware Syndrome" versus European Community Law have been accepted for publication in RECHT DER INTERNATIONALEN WIRTSCHAFT and THE INTERNATIONAL LAWYER, respectively. His review of Leon E. Trakman's book THE LAW MERCHANT: THE EVOLUTION OF COMMERCIAL LAW will be published in the Spring 1987 issue of THE INTERNATIONAL LAWYER. While in Europe, Professor Ebke presented papers to the University of Groningen School of Law, The Netherlands, the German American Lawyers Association at Duesseldorf, Germany, and the Dresdner Bank at Frankfurt, Germany. A member of the Bar of New York, Dr. Ebke also served as Assistant Editor of THE INTERNATIONAL LAWYER, a publication of the American Bar Association.

MATTHEW W. FINKIN, Professor of Law (A.B., 1963, Ohio Wesleyan University; LL.B., 1967, New York University; LL.M., 1973, Yale University), continued as chairman of Committee A on Academic Freedom and Tenure of the American Association of University Professors, and as chairman of the Association of American Law Schools' Committee on Academic Freedom and Tenure. Professor Finkin was elected to membership in The Labor Law Group, a national professional association, and was elected as well to the governing board of the newly created Dallas Area Labor and Employment Law Group. He published "Labor Law By Boz — A Theory of Meyers Industries, Inc., Sears Roebuck and Co., and Bird Engineering," 71 Iowa L. Rev. 155 (1985), and "Does Karl Klare Protest Too Much?," 44 Md. L. Rev. 1100 (1985). He also lectured in the Graduate School of Duke University on "The Tenure System" as part of the Mellon Foundation "Academic Handbook" project. He continued work on a two-volume treatise entitled "The Individual Employment Relationship: Law and Litigation" to be published by Kluwer in 1987.

WILLIAM J. FLITTIE, Professor of Law (B.Sc.L., 1946, University of Minnesota; LL.B., 1947, Columbia University), an expert in the fields of oil and gas and antitrust law, he completed the 1986 supplement to W. Summers, The Law of Oil and Gas (Perm. Ed.), which he has maintained, and in part rewritten, over a period of 24 years. He also was engaged in extensive research concerned with possible use of Sherman Antitrust injunctive processes to curb labor racketeering.

SHARON N. FREYTAG, Visiting Assistant Professor of Law (B.S., 1965, University of Kansas; M.A., 1966, University of Michigan, J.D., 1981, Southern Methodist University), taught Civil Procedure and Products Liability during 1985-86. Professor Freytag was on leave for the year from the Dallas law firm of Haynes & Boone.

JEFFREY M. GABA, Assistant Professor of Law (B.A., 1972, University of California, Santa Barbara; J.D., 1976, Columbia University), taught courses in Property, Environmental Law, Water Law and Land Use. His article on the rights of private parties to recover hazardous waste clean-up costs was recently published in Ecology Law Quarterly. Professor Gaba has served as a member of the Dallas Environmental Health Commission and as Chairperson of the Environmental Law Section of the Dallas Bar Association. At the May meeting of the SMU Board of Trustees, Assistant Professor Gaba was granted tenure with the rank of Associate Professor of Law.

JOHN E. KENNEDY, Professor of Law (Ph.B., 1956, LL.B., 1959, Notre Dame University; LL.M. 1964, J.S.D., 1970, Yale University), an authority in the field of procedure, was on sabbatical, continuing research for a book on class actions.

HENRY J. LISCHER, JR., Professor of Law (B.B.A., 1967, J.D., 1970, University of Iowa; LL.M. [in Taxation], 1974, New York University), was on sabbatical leave during the Fall 1985 Semester. During that time, he taught a one-week course on U.S.

Taxation of International Transactions and served as Administrative Director of the Academy of International Taxation which is co-sponsored by the School of Law with the Public Finance Training Institute of the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of China, Taiwan, to provide instruction to career tax officials from developing countries. He and a coauthor published three volumes of estate planning forms as part of West's Legal Forms (2d ed.). He also published an article, "The Tax Benefit Doctrine Does Not Apply to Research or Experimental Expenditures Previously Deducted Pursuant to Section 174(a): Rev. Rul. 85-186, 64 Journal of Taxation 74 (1986). During the year, he made speeches to the Dallas Estate Planning Council, the Tax Section of the Dallas Bar Association, the Iowa State Bar Association, and the Dallas District Counsel Office of the Internal Revenue Service. In the Spring Semester, he taught Corporate Taxation; Income Taxation of Trusts, Estates, and Beneficiaries; and Tax and Fiscal Policy. He served as Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Graduate Legal Studies.

THOMAS WM. MAYO, Assistant Professor of Law (B.A., 1971, Amherst; J.D., 1977, Syracuse), taught Federal Courts, Land Use, and Civil Procedure. He wrote a discussion of attorney sanctions in Sanctions Under Rule 11, Rule 37 and Other Powers (1986), published by the ABA Litigation Section, and he is currently coauthoring a single-volume treatise on Business Torts. He spoke to the Fort Worth Chapter of the Federal Bar Association on federal jurisdiction and to the SMU Advanced Civil Trial Short Course on the subject of removal. Professor Mayo was active with the American Bar Association Litigation Section's Federal Practice Committee and organized and participated in round-table discussions at the School of Law on disinvestment in South Africa and the legal responses to international terrorism. Professor Mayo also received the School of Law's Dr. Don M. Smart Prize for Directed Research.

MAXINE T. MCCONNELL-TOBIN, Assistant Professor of Law and Director of the Civil Clinic (B.A., 1940, LL.B., 1958, Southern Methodist University), taught the Civil Clinic classes and revised teaching materials and problems used in the Civil Clinic course. She was a member of the State Bar of Texas Committee on Legal Services to the Poor in Civil Matters and the Dallas Bar Association Lawyer Referral Service and Legal Aid and Legal Service Committees.

JOSEPH W. MCKNIGHT, Professor of Law (B.A., 1947, University of Texas; B.A. in Jurisprudence, 1949, B.C.L., 1950 and M.A., 1954, Oxford University; LL.M., 1959, Columbia University), took the Christmas recess for a successful operation and was back in the classroom for the second semester. During July and August he assisted in the administration of the third annual Law Summer School at Oxford University. He celebrated the Texas Sesquicentennial with an article on "Stephen Austin's Legalistic Concerns," 89 Southwestern Historical Quarterly 239-268 (1986), and established something of a record by contributing his twentieth article on family law to the Southwestern Law Journal's twentieth annual survey of Texas law, 40 Sw. L.J. 1-52 (1986).

CHARLES J. MORRIS, Professor of Law (A.B., 1944, Temple University; LL.B., 1948, Columbia University), during the Fall Semester taught Constitutional Law I, Alternative Dispute Resolution, and Perspectives on American Law. During the Spring Semester he taught Labor Law II and a seminar in Selected Problems in Administrative Law. He was Chairperson of the Multi-State Labor and Employment Law Symposium in New Orleans, and presented a paper at and was Chairperson of the "Labor Board at Mid-Century" Conference in Washington, D.C. He published an article entitled "NLRB Deferral to the Arbitration Process: The Arbitrator's Awesome Responsibility" in the Industrial Relations Law Journal, and completed an article on NLRB procedures and remedies. He also edited American Labor Policy — A Critical Appraisal of the National Labor Relations Act, a book to be published in late 1986 by the Bureau of National Affairs.

FREDERICK C. MOSS, Associate Professor of Law (A.B., 1965, Georgetown University; J.D., 1968, Villanova University; LL.M., 1977, Harvard University), taught Criminal Law and Professional Responsibility in the Fall. In September, Professor Moss was on the faculty of the Texas Litigation Section's training session on teaching Trial Advocacy. In the Spring he taught Evidence and Trial Advocacy, prepared an SMU mock trial team for a national competition and spoke at the SMU Continuing Legal Education Program on the new Texas Criminal Rules of Evidence. In June he directed the Southern Regional Program of the National Institute for Trial Advocacy held at SMU.

JOHN J. MYLAN, Professor of Law (B.S., 1961, Fordham College; J.D., 1964, Stanford University; LL.M. [in Taxation], 1965, New York University), taught Federal Income Taxation, Federal Taxation of Corporations and Shareholders, and Taxation and Fiscal Policy. He supplemented his chapter on Bank Taxation in the treatise entitled Banking Law Manual. Professor Mylan delivered papers on various taxation topics at the Northwest Tax Institute, the University of Missouri Seminar on Business Taxation, the American Institute on Federal Taxation, the Mississippi Tax Institute and the Annual Short Course on the Law of Banking Institutions. He gave a course on "Tax Exempt Organizations" at the Academy of International Taxation, co-sponsored by SMU and the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of China (Taiwan). He is currently writing a two-volume treatise entitled Federal Income Taxation of Closely Held Corporations.

CARLA A. NEELEY, Assistant Professor of Law (B.A., 1974, Duke University; J.D., 1976, University of Florida), taught Wills and Estate Administration, Trusts, and Federal Income Tax Problems of Exempt Organizations. She also served as a member of the American Bar Association Probate and Trust Division Committee on Charitable Institutions: Tax and Other Problems.

JOSEPH JUDE NORTON, Professor of Law (A.B., 1966, Providence College, LL.B. (hons), 1969, University of Edinburgh; LL.M., 1970, University of Texas; S.J.D., 1973, University of Michigan; Diplome, Hague Academy of International Law, 1975), taught Torts I and II, domestic and international banking law courses, and Survey of American Business Law. He supplemented his Banking Law Manual (coauthor), adding a new chapter on regulation of securities activities; edited and contributed to a treatise on E.C.C.: Trade and Investment; and published several articles in the banking law area. He was director of, a contributor to and speaker at the University's Fourth Annual Institute on International Finance, and at the Law School's Annual Short Course on Law of Banking Institutions and Annual Institute on Commercial Lending. He is a regular contributor to the Law and Business Column of Dallas, Inc. He served as a member of the Committee on Graduate Legal Studies, and as a member of the Executive Committee, Dean Search Committee and Provost's Ad Hoc Committee on International Programs.

DANIEL Q. POSIN, Associate Professor of Law (A.B., 1963, University of California at Berkeley; M.A., J.D., 1967, Yale; LL.M., 1975, New York University), taught Income Taxation, Corporate Reorganization, Corporate Planning, Partnership Taxation, and Perspectives on American Business Laws during 1985-86. At the May meeting of the Board of Trustees, Associate Professor Posin was promoted to the rank of Professor.

ROARK M. REED, Professor of Law and Associate Dean for Clinical Education (B.S., B.A., 1965, J.D., 1969, Georgetown University), designed and acquired funding for a project for legal services to the elderly, which operates in conjunction with the Civil Cases Clinic. He has organized a national symposium on RICO Litigation and directed the Dallas Bar Association Trial Skills course for practicing lawyers.

C. PAUL ROGERS III, Professor of Law and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (B.A., 1970, J.D., 1973, University of Texas; LL.M., 1977, Columbia University), taught Sales of Goods Transactions and Antitrust Law. A specialist in antitrust law, his co-authored casebook, Antitrust Law: Policy and Practice, was published in September 1985 by Matthew Bender & Co. A teacher's manual for the casebook was published in the spring. Dean Rogers is also coauthoring a one-volume treatise on Business Torts. He also served as faculty adviser to the Journal of Air Law and Commerce and chaired the Diverse Student Recruitment Committee at the Law School, as well as serving as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

JESWALD W. SALACUSE, Dean and Professor of Law (A.B., 1960, Hamilton College; J.D., 1963, Harvard University), taught Legal Problems of International Business. Dean Salacuse was the coeditor of and contributor to Social Legislation in the Middle East, a collection of essays published by the Institute of International Studies, University of California at Berkeley (1986). He also prepared updated revisions for the six-volume treatise International Business Planning: Law and Taxation, of which he is coauthor. He delivered several lectures during the year, including "United States Relations with the Third World," for the SMU Lecture Series; "International Commercial Arbitration," for the Southwestern Legal Foundation; "Host Country Regulation of Foreign Investment," for the International Law Institute, Washington, D.C.; and "Making Deals in Unfamiliar Places: International Business and International Education," the Charles Francis Adams Lecture at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University. At the request of U.S.A.I.D., Dean Salacuse traveled to Tunisia in March to consult with the Tunisian government and U.S.A.I.D. on training programs for Tunisian government officials. He served on the Board of Directors of the Capital Bank, Dallas, and the Dispute Mediation Service, Inc., of Dallas, and was a Trustee of the Dallas Bar Foundation. At the end of the academic year, Dean Salacuse resigned from Southern Methodist University to become Dean of The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University.

DANIEL W. SHUMAN, Professor of Law (B.S., 1969, J.D., 1972, University of Arizona), taught courses in Civil Procedure, Evidence, and Psychiatric and Psychological Evidence. He continued his research, publications, and lectures on the psychotherapist-patient privilege. His book, Psychiatric and Psychological Evidence, was published in July 1986 by McGraw-Hill.

ELLEN K. SOLENDER, Professor of Law (A.B., 1944, Oberlin College; J.D., 1971, Southern Methodist University), taught Torts I & II, Family Law, and The First Amendment and

Mass Media. For the tenth consecutive year, she published an annual survey of the Texas law relating to parents and their children, 40 Sw.L.J. 53-74 (1986).

WALTER W. STEELE, JR., Professor of Law (LL.B., 1957, Southern Methodist University; LL.M., 1969, University of Texas), has just completed a sabbatical year serving as a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the Northern District of Texas, where he concentrated on white-collar crime cases.

HOWARD J. TAUBENFELD, Professor of Law (A.B., 1947, LL.B., 1948, and Ph.D., 1958, Columbia University), taught Property I and Science, Technology and Law in the spring of 1986. An expert in international law, he was a special consultant to the Government of Tunisia on legislation governing pollution control and worker safety and health. His publications include the preparation of Vol. 4, "Selective National Laws Concerning Women in Sex Based Discrimination: International Law and Organization" (1978-1985), and of Vol. 5, "The International Women's Year and Decade." He has been Professional Director of two tours by attorneys of the Soviet Union, meeting with Soviet judges and lawyers, in 1985-86.

CHARLES T. TERRY, Assistant Professor of Law (A.B., 1967, Stanford University; J.D., 1981, Southwestern University; LL.M. [in taxation], 1982, New York University School of Law), taught Federal Income Taxation, Corporate Tax, Taxation of Property Dispositions, and Tax Accounting. He completed development of a course titled Tax Practice and Professional Responsibility, to be taught beginning in the fall of 1986, and taught Taxation of Exempt Organizations at the Academy of International Taxation in Taiwan. He continued research on reforming the tax accounting treatment of the leverage aspect of tax shelters.

HARVEY WINGO, Professor of Law (B.A., 1958, Birmingham-Southern College; M.A., 1960, J.D., 1962, Vanderbilt University), taught Constitutional Law, Criminal Law, and Constitutional Criminal Procedure. His research activities were devoted primarily to the continuation of his study comparing the federal systems of Canada and the United States, which he began during his sabbatical leave in the Spring 1984. An article entitled "U.S. & Canadian Federalism: A Study In Contrast" was completed and is expected to be published in the Fall 1986. In May, it was announced that Professor Wingo would serve as Dean ad interim during June and July, pending the arrival of Dean Kenneth L. Penegar on August 1.

PETER WINSHIP, Associate Professor of Law (B.A., 1965, LL.B., 1968, Harvard University; LL.M., 1973, University of London [London School of Economics]), taught commercial and corporate law courses. He completed a commercial law casebook, published by Little, Brown and continued researching the field of international trade law. In the Spring Semester he was on leave to teach at the U.C.L.A. Law School. At the May meeting of the Board of Trustees, Associate Professor Winship was promoted to the rank of Professor of Law.
