

ALUMNI NOTES

W. Davis Frazell, B. S. in Geology, 1934, since taking his masters degree at Texas has been employed with the United Gas Company as geologist, with headquarters at Shreveport, Louisiana.

Joe G. Wilson, '24, for some years with the Texas Railroad Commission, Petroleum proration division, has recently been appointed Assistant Proration Supervisor of the Stanolind Oil Company with headquarters at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Claude C. Albritton, Jr., '32, has been studying in the graduate school of Geology at Harvard, is a candidate for the Ph. D. degree this June. His dissertation is on the Malone Mountains of the Trans-Pecos area of Texas.

Martin C. Kelsey, '29 who has been with the Geophysical Service, Inc., for the last several years in northern Mexico, was recently made a party chief.

Elizabeth Troth, B. A. in Geography, 1934, is teaching geography in the S. J. Hay School, Dallas. Recently she read a paper on the Human Geography section program of the Southwestern Social Science Association meeting at Fort Worth.

Tom Bonner, B. S. in Physics, 1931, has been appointed instructor in physics at the Rice Institute, where he will begin work with the academic year 1936-37. Dr. Bonner received the Ph. D. degree from Rice in 1934, and has spent two years as National Research Fellow in the California Institute of Technology.

Jean Stevenson, M. S. in Biology, 1935, is now employed as a teacher in the public schools of El Paso. To the November, 1935, Issue of Field & Laboratory, Miss Stevenson contributed "Histological Changes in the Liver of Salamanders during Starvation."

Joe P. Harris, Jr., is studying toward the doctorate at the University of Michigan, and is working on fresh water sponges. He received his A. B. degree from Southern Methodist in 1934.

J. K. Gwynn Silvey, who received his bachelor's degree from Southern Methodist in 1927, and his Ph. D. from Michigan in 1932, is now an assistant professor of Biology at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. Dr. Silvey headed the Biology department of McMurry

(Alumni Notes Continued)

College, Abilene, from 1932 to 1935. He served as an instructor at Southern Methodist in 1928-29.

Ewin Gaby, a graduate in chemistry from Southern Methodist, is now a Party Chief with Geophysical Service Incorporated.

Henry Lewelling, B. S. in Chemistry, 1935, is chemist for the First Texas Chemical Company, Dallas.

Ralph Heuse, B. S. in Chemistry, 1934, holds an Eli Lilly Scholarship at the University of Chicago, where he is doing graduate work in Organic Chemistry.