CONFERRING OF HONORARY DEGREES

PHILIP HAUGE ABELSON, Doctor of Science

Distinguished scientist, writer and editor, Philip H. Abelson has labored fruitfully in the interpretation of science both to the scientific community and to the world at large. As a scientist he has been associated with the scientific laboratories of the Carnegie Institution and the Office of Naval Research as scholar and administrator. Through his original research and scientific writing, he has contributed to the general store of scientific knowledge. Since 1962 he has been editor of Science, the official journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In this post he has been an eloquent spokesman for the scientific enterprise in breadth and depth and has been notably successful in correlating the interests of his own scientific colleagues and those of an enlarging company of educated laymen. For his effective and courageous service as interpreter and defender of science and its humane concerns, we are pleased to honor him here today. I have the honor of presenting Philip Hauge Abelson for the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

Presented by Professor James Elwood Brooks

SAMUEL HANS ADLER, Doctor of Music

Distinguished musician, composer, educator, he has provided effective leadership in refining the disciplines involved in the musical art. As a teacher and lecturer, he has contributed imaginative experimentation which has aroused expanded interest in musical composition and also reaffirmed the integrity of technique required for such creativity. As a composer, his eloquence and craftsmanship reinforce his impact as a teacher and his abundant output reflects his boundless energy. A leader among musicians, he also stirs the musical interest of laymen through persuasive discourse and prestigious musical performances. In recognition of responsible use of artistic endowment and in anticipation of enlarged service to his profession, SMU is proud to present him this day for the degree of Doctor of Music, honoris causa.

Presented by Professor Lloyd Pfautsch

WILLIAM HUMPHREY, Doctor of Letters

In two novels and two books of short stories, he has evoked the myths and mores of his region with such fidelity and affectionate understanding, such lucid art and vivid drama, that he has emerged as one of the two or three internationally admired southwestern writers to have made their reputations since the long standing achievement of Katherine Anne Porter in using southwestern life in fiction. Viewing Texas with a perspective gained from his later career in New England, London, Paris, and Rome, he has been detached and objective in chronicling southwestern values, attached and subjective in his celebration of man's will to endure and prevail wherever his destiny places him. In recognition of his artist's power to endow authentic local life with universal meaning, we are pleased to confer upon him this day the degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa.

Presented by Professor George Doherty Bond

PAUL WILLIAM MILHOUSE, Doctor of Divinity

Pastor, editor, ecumenist and ecclesiastical statesman, he is the first bishop assigned to the South Central Jurisdiction from the former Evangelical United Brethren Church. Illinois born and bred, his ministry has ranged over his home state, Pennsylvania, Kansas and now Oklahoma (with interim assignments in Asia and Europe). A vigorous leader, he is also a sensitive and perceptive listener. A far-visioned advocate of renewal, he is also deeply concerned for consensus and concord as prime values in vital progress in church and society. In recognition of the rich heritage he brings to the newly constituted United Methodist Church and as a gesture of cordial welcome to our Jurisdiction and University, SMU takes great pride in this opportunity to confer upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa.

Presented by Professor Albert C. Outler

JOHN ROGERS, Doctor of Humane Letters

Distinguished lawyer, educational statesman, humanitarian, he has pressed onward the human cause through his dedication to the service of his fellow man. As a former law school dean in his home state of Oklahoma and as university regent and trustee in Oklahoma as well as in the State of Arkansas, he has been a source of strength to the cause of higher education in the Southwest. Not only has he contributed to the advancement of education, but through his efforts in these institutions and in international, national, state and community organizations he has also served the brotherhood of man in the struggle for civil rights and social justice. For his far-visioned and courageous leadership for intellectual integrity, freedom and justice we this day accord grateful recognition with the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Presented by Hastings Harrison, Senior Consultant to the President
