FROM THE EDITORS:
TRIBUTE TO HIBERNIA PRATHER TURBEVILLE

It is not our place, nor is it our wish, to supersede the comments on the following pages, which remember and praise Hibernia Prather Turbeville as a woman of learning, an educator, and a caring and compassionate human being. Personal praise is better left to those who knew and loved her, and the comments of Earl C. Borgeson, Associate Dean Gail M. Daly, Charles O. Galvin, Paul Gleiser, John H. McElhaney, Professor Joseph W. McKnight, Ann Van Wynen Thomas, and Windle Turley speak volumes.

As beneficiaries of Ms. Turbeville's dedication and devotion, we raise our voices in tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville. As we have compiled this tribute to Ms. Turbeville, we have read the many ways in which she touched the lives of her friends, family, colleagues, and students. Those of us who never knew her personally are still the benefactors of her hard work and dedication to the development of the Southern Methodist University School of Law.

While she was all of the things that her friends and colleagues describe, she has also left a legacy behind—something invaluable and priceless for all generations to follow. Her legacy will live on in every student, attorney, and visitor who ventures through the doors of SMU Law School. For this, we pay tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville and dedicate this issue in her honor.
