

1999

Tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholar.smu.edu/smulr>

Recommended Citation

Tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville, 52 SMU L. Rev. i (1999)
<https://scholar.smu.edu/smulr/vol52/iss1/2>

This Tribute is brought to you for free and open access by the Law Journals at SMU Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in SMU Law Review by an authorized administrator of SMU Scholar. For more information, please visit <http://digitalrepository.smu.edu>.

From the Editors

TRIBUTE TO HIBERNIA PRATHER TURBEVILLE

It is not our place, nor is it our wish, to supersede the comments on the following pages, which remember and praise Hibernia Prather Turbeville as a woman of learning, an educator, and a caring and compassionate human being. Personal praise is better left to those who knew and loved her, and the comments of Earl C. Borgeson, Associate Dean Gail M. Daly, Charles O. Galvin, Paul Gleiser, John H. McElhaney, Professor Joseph W. McKnight, Ann Van Wynen Thomas and Windle Turley speak volumes.

As beneficiaries of Ms. Turbeville's dedication and devotion, we raise our voices in tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville. As we have compiled this tribute to Ms. Turbeville, we have read the many ways in which she touched the lives of her friends, family, colleagues, and students. Those of us who never knew her personally, are still the benefactors of her hard work and dedication to the development of the Southern Methodist University School of Law.

While she was all of the things that her friends and colleagues describe, she has also left a legacy behind—something invaluable and priceless for all generations to follow. Her legacy will live on in every student, attorney, and visitor who venture through the doors of SMU Law School. For this, we pay tribute to Hibernia Prather Turbeville and dedicate this issue in her honor.

BOARD OF EDITORS
SMU Law Review Association