SCHOOL OF LAW, SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

The Journal of Air Law and Commerce prints matter it considers worthy. However, publication does not necessarily imply agreement by the editors or the publisher with the opinions expressed in the articles.

The Journal's masthead this issue indicates certain changes. In order to more clearly reflect the increasing role of the student staff, the former "Student Board of Editors" has become simply "Board of Editors." Our former Associate Editors comprise a new Editorial Advisory Board, each of whose Members has graciously consented to continue in the very important role of advisor, consultant, and contributor. Finally, the Editor, from the Southern Methodist University School of Law, who also serves as faculty advisor to the now Board of Editors, has been newly designated "Senior Editor."

These changes portend no change of direction in the Journal's editorial policies. With the increased staff available to the Journal, they do reflect arrangements under which the process of improving the publication's quality, as well as quantity, is progressing.

We are pleased to announce that, effective 1 January 1966, the Journal will offer a reduced rate for three-year subscriptions. For domestic United States subscribers, the three-year rate will be $25; for foreign subscribers, $27.25. The new rates will apply to new subscriptions and renewals effective after 1 January.

The cumulative index covering thirty-one volumes of the Journal, announced in the Winter 1965 issue, is moving along, but slowly. The Autumn issue will contain information concerning the date and method of issue.
