FIXEL on
THE LAW OF AVIATION

Fourth Edition

by

Rowland W. Fixel

This definitive treatise on aviation law has been a standard since 1927. The author, former staff judge advocate to the commanding general of the U. S. Air Transport Command, has updated and expanded his treatment of national, military and international aviation law. Included in its 900 pages is a comprehensive general index, a table of cases, and a survey of the law of aviation of all 50 of the United States. Price—$30.00.

WORLD PEACE THROUGH SPACE LAW

by Jerome Morenoff

Foreword by Charles S. Rhyne

President, World Peace Through Law Center

Dr. Morenoff examines the traditional rights granted nations under customary law in relation to the practice of aerial reconnaissance in order to determine a viable solution which may eventually justify the establishment of a cooperative international system of surveillance. Price—$10.00.

THE AIR CODE OF THE U.S.S.R.

by

Denis A. Cooper

Colonel Cooper has translated the Soviet Air Code in a manner which faithfully conveys the subtle legal and technical concepts involved. In addition, he has included notes and explanatory comments which shows the Code's relation to other Soviet law, international and U. S. aviation law. Price—$15.00.

The Board of Editors is pleased to present this publication of the proceedings of the Symposium on Air Safety held in Dallas, Texas in April 1968. Hopefully, this publication will serve as a permanent source of information for future confrontations on the subject as well as make available the substance of the Symposium to all concerned. Among the notable articles in this issue are the comments of the Hon. M. Cecil Mackey which serve as a prelude to Secretary Alan S. Boyd's testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee, Aviation Subcommittee, and Mr. C. O. Miller's philosophical approach to aviation safety.

In response to the success of the Symposium on the Warsaw Convention and the Symposium on Air Safety, the Journal has already finalized plans for a third symposium. With the assistance of Professor Charles J. Morris, Institute of Aerospace Law, and Professor Benjamin Aaron, University of California, the Symposium on Air Transport Labor Relations promises to surpass the success of the previous two symposia. In an attempt to open the agenda to a wider cross-section of ideas, emphasis will be placed on discussion from the floor by the delegates, after selected speakers lay a foundation for constructive thinking on various topics.

Volume 34-4 should prove significant for the aviation field. Included in this issue, which will be published at the end of December, are articles by IATA's Assistant to General Counsel, Edward D. Bailey, entitled Air Carrier Liability for Nuclear Damage, and the first two installments of Mr. Barre Hall's thesis entitled The Civil Aeronautics Board Policy Favoring Subsidy Reduction to Local Service Carriers.
