SYMPOSIUM ON ACCIDENT INQUIRY AND LITIGATION

SPONSORED BY

JOURNAL OF AIR LAW AND COMMERCE

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF LAW

18-20 MARCH 1970

WEDNESDAY—MARCH 18

The Symposium will open with registration and a commencement speech at the banquet.

THURSDAY—MARCH 19

The Symposium will focus on the practical application of air law to aircraft accidents. The first day's presentation will begin with the accident inquiry from both plaintiff's and defendant's view as well as that of the NTSB. A later session will feature the impact of the Tyding's Bill now before Congress and the discovery process, including whether the NTSB hearing should be conducted in an adversary manner or one in which probable cause and not proximate cause is the only fact in issue.

FRIDAY—MARCH 20

The second day's subject will be concerned with the litigation process and will include both foreign and domestic litigation procedures. Again the discussion will include both plaintiff's and defendant's position. A panel discussion will close out the Symposium.

Specific topics for each speaker have not been chosen. The Journal of Air Law and Commerce welcomes suggestions from its subscribers concerning the general subject outlined above. Requests for additional information and suggestions should be addressed to:

The Journal of Air Law & Commerce

Announces

The Thirty-five Year Index

The rapid growth of the aviation industry with a parallel development of air law, as well as the Journal's existence at two law schools has required compilation of the cases and issues to which the Journal has addressed itself over the past 35 years.

As you may recall, work on the 35-year cumulative index has been in progress for a number of years; it has involved the efforts of several boards and many man-hours. The Board of Editors is, therefore, pleased to announce the near-completion of the task.

After completing a final cost analysis, we found that publishing costs will be significantly less than previously anticipated. This reduced cost plus an unanticipated demand allows the Journal to offer this useful addition to your library at our cost of $5.00.

The anticipated distribution date for the Index is February 1, 1970. In order to obtain a copy, write indicating the number of copies you wish to purchase to:
