

Corrigenda

The Editors of the International Lawyer regret exceedingly the publication in the April issue, of errors concerning Lord McNair. His long and distinguished career, which continues, started with his admission as a solicitor in 1906 and has included his appointment as a Commander of the British Empire in 1918, his Knighthood in 1943, his appointment as King's Counsel in 1945, and his creation as the First Baron McNair in 1955. In addition to his appointment as Whewell Professor of International Law at Cambridge University, he had previously been Tagore Professor at Calcutta University and was subsequently Vice Chancellor of the University of Liverpool. He was awarded honorary doctorates from Oxford, Brussels, Salonika and many other Universities and the Manley Hudson Gold Medal by the American Society of International Law in 1959. He is presently living in Cambridge.

The article by Paul C. Szasz, Arbitration Under the Auspices of the World Bank, which appeared in the January 1969 issue (Volume 3, No. 2), constituted the transcript of an address he prepared for delivery before a joint meeting on "Resolving International Business Disputes" of the Committee on Commercial Arbitration and Conciliation of Investment Disputes, Section of International Comparative Law, and the Committee on Commercial Arbitration, Section of Corporation, Banking and Business Law; this address was delivered in Mr. Szasz' absence by Mr. Lucien Moreau. Though both are members of the staff of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and Mr. Szasz has been seconded to the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes, the views expressed in the article do not necessarily reflect those of either of the organizations. Through inadvertence, the present note, as well as the annotations for and several minor corrections prepared for the publication of the text of the address were not reproduced.

CONTRIBUTORS

RICHARD C. ALLISON, Partner in the law firm of Reid and Priest, New York City; graduate of the University of Virginia (A.B.) and of the University of Virginia School of Law (LL.B.); member of the Inter-American Bar Association, American Foreign Law Association, Association of the Bar of the City of New York, Chairman of the Latin American Law Committee of the Section of International and Comparative Law of the American Bar Association.

JOE C. BARRETT, Senior partner in the law firm of Barrett, Wheatley, Smith and Deacon, Jonesboro, Arkansas; graduate of the University of Arkansas (A.B.) and George Washington University (LL.B.); holds an Honorary Doctorate of Laws degree from the University of Arkansas; has been Chairman of the Section of International and Comparative Law for the '67-'68 term; member American Judicature Society (Past Director), Bar Association of the State of Arkansas (Past President), International Association of Insurance Counsel and American Law Institute; was appointed to the State Department Advisory Committee on international law problems affecting the foreign policy of the United States.

JOHN CAREY, Partner in the Coudert Brothers law firm, New York City; Adjunct Assistant Professor, New York University School of Law; graduate of Yale College (A.B.), Harvard Law School (LL.B.) and New York University School of Graduate Law (LL.M.); was a consultant to the Special Committee on the Federal Loyalty-Security program of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and alternate United States representative to the U.N. Commission, New York, 1968; is currently the alternate U.S. member of the U.N. Subcommittee on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities.

MITCHELL B. CARROLL, Member of the Coudert Brothers law firm, New York City; graduate of Johns Hopkins University (A.B.); the University of Bonn (LL.D.) and George Washington University (LL.B.); member of the American Foreign Law Association, American Society of International Law, American branch of the International Law Association, Academie Diplomatique, Bar Association of the City of New York and former Chairman of the Section of International and Comparative Law of the American Bar Association (1943-45); admitted to practice in New York and the District of Columbia; is author of various books and articles on the subject of international taxation.

INTERNATIONAL LAWYER

G. WINTHROP HAIGHT, Engaged in private practice of the law in New York City; graduate of Yale College (A.B.) and Yale Law School (LL.B.); member of the American Bar Association; International Law Association; International Bar Association; American Foreign Law Association; American Law Institute and American Society of International Law; contributor of articles in the field of international law to the International Lawyer, Yale Law Journal, Vanderbilt Law Journal and various other law reviews and periodicals.

RENÉ H. HIMEL, JR., Member of the law firm of Deutsch, Kerrigan and Stiles, New Orleans; graduate of Tulane University (A.B.) and Tulane University Law School (LL.B.); is a member of the Louisiana Bar Association, New Orleans Bar Association and of the American Bar Association.

CHARLES R. NORBERG, Engaged in private practice of law in the District of Columbia; graduate of Cornell University (B.S.), the University of Pennsylvania (M.A.) and Harvard Law School (LL.B.); member of the Philadelphia Bar Association, Pennsylvania Bar Association, American Bar Association, Federal Bar Association, Inter-American Bar Association and the International Bar Association; admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; is a member of the Council of the Section of International and Comparative Law of the American Bar Association and Chairman of the American Bar Association Special Committee on Relations with Lawyers of Other Nations, as well as Vice-President, Inter-American Bar Foundation and General Counsel of the Inter-American Commercial Arbitration Commission.

B. K. ROBERTS, Justice, Supreme Court of the State of Florida; graduate of the University of Florida (J.D.) and holds Honorary Doctorate of Laws degree from the University of Florida; engaged in practice of law in Tallahassee, Florida prior to becoming a Justice in Florida Supreme Court in 1949; Justice Roberts was selected to serve as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Florida for the 1953-54 and 1961-63 terms; member of the 1966 Florida Constitution Revision Committee and Chairman of the Subcommittee on Human Rights; member Florida Bar, American Bar Association and of its United Nations Committee, the Inter-American Bar Association and other legal and professional societies.

Contributors

LEWIS F. SCHULL, Brigadier General, Judge Advocate U.S. Army—Europe; graduate of Nebraska State Teachers College, George Washington University School of Law (LL.B.) and attended the National University Law School Course on Military Justice; member of the American Bar Association, Federal Bar Association, Judge Advocates Association and the Inter-American Bar Association; and also member of the San Antonio Bar Association and the Colorado and Nebraska Bar Associations; admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

FRANCIS G. WELLER, Member of the law firm of Deutsch, Kerrigan and Stiles, New Orleans; graduate of the University of Wisconsin (A.B.), Loyola University of the South (LL.B.); member of the Louisiana Bar Association.

MALCOLM RICHARD WILKEY, Secretary and General Counsel of the Kennecott Copper Corporation; graduate Harvard College (A.B.) and Harvard Law School (LL.B.); former Assistant Attorney General of the United States (1958-1961); member of the International Law Association, American Law Institute, American Bar Association (Chairman, Committee on Antitrust Law Affecting International Trade), Inter-American Bar Association, Houston Bar Association, State Bar of Texas, and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

