INTER ALIA

Three seniors received the LL.B. degree at the end of the Summer Term. This was the smallest group graduated from the Law School since during World War II.

The Law School conferred its first degree of Master of Laws in Oil and Gas Law (LL.M.) on Alfred E. McLane. This was the fourth degree Mr. McLane has received from the University.

With receipt of the records of the case assigned for the National Inter-Law School Moot Court Competition for 1952, students in the Southern Methodist University Law School are preparing for the local contests to select a team for the regional round to be held in Oklahoma City in November. Under the sponsorship of the Student Bar Association, a series of elimination contests will be held early in the Fall Semester. Over twenty students are preparing briefs and arguments for this competition. Winners of the regional round will go to New York City for the final contest.
