EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL
COMMENCEMENT CONVOCATION

SATURDAY MORNING
THE FIFTEENTH OF MAY
TWO THOUSAND AND FOUR
AT NINE-THIRTY O'CLOCK
MOODY COLISEUM
In 1911, a Methodist education commission made a commitment to establish a major Methodist university in Texas. More than 600 acres of open prairie and $300,000 pledged by a group of Dallas citizens secured the university for Dallas, and it was chartered as Southern Methodist University. In appreciation of the city's support, the first building to be constructed on the campus was named Dallas Hall. It remains the centerpiece and symbol of SMU. When the University opened in 1915, it consisted of two buildings, 706 students, a 35-member faculty, and total assets of $636,540. The original schools of SMU were the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Theology, and the School of Music.

SMU is owned by the South Central Jurisdiction of the United Methodist Church. The first charge of its founders, however, was that it become a great university, not necessarily a great Methodist university. From its founding, SMU has been nonsectarian in its teaching and committed to the values of academic freedom and open inquiry.

SMU also has maintained a strong partnership with Dallas and has given special consideration to area needs in the development of academic programs. In the 1920s, the first business curriculum was offered in response to a request by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce; the Dallas Bar Association supported establishment of the law school, and a forerunner of the engineering school was established with encouragement from the Dallas Technical Club.

After struggling through its early years and the Depression of the 1930s, SMU experienced a surge of growth after World War II. From the late 1940s to the end of the 1960s, more than half of the current buildings on campus were constructed. SMU's academic stature took on a new dimension when the first Ph.D. programs were instituted in 1957.

Today, Southern Methodist University offers a comprehensive curriculum through Dedman College – the college of humanities and sciences – and five schools: Meadows School of the Arts, Edwin L. Cox School of Business, School of Engineering, Perkins School of Theology, and Dedman School of Law.

The University offers more than 125 undergraduate majors, Master’s degrees in nearly 100 areas, professional degrees in two disciplines, Ph.D. degrees in 21 fields, and seven certificate programs.

Enrollment for the 2003-2004 academic year was 11,161, including 6,299 undergraduate students and 4,862 graduate and professional school students. SMU students come from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and 92 countries. About 79.4 percent of first-year students received some form of financial assistance for 2003-2004. About 20 percent of the student body are minorities; 62.2 percent of undergraduates and 31.8 percent of graduate students report religious affiliation; 26.5 percent are Methodist, 21.4 are Roman Catholic. Also represented in the student body are other Protestant denominations and other religions, including Judaism, Buddhism, and Islam.

In addition to preparing students for graduate and professional schools, or more directly for their life’s work, the University strives to enhance their social, moral, intellectual, and religious development so that they may lead worthy lives as individuals and citizens of the nation and of the world.
THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION AND REGALIA

The academic procession and the regalia worn by the faculty and officers of the University symbolically represent the continuing link between the modern American university and the founding of the great medieval universities in Europe – chief among them Bologna, Paris, and Oxford. As those institutions were derived from the Catholic Church, the universities adopted many of the ceremonial trappings of the church in their official public functions.

The mace of the University, a symbol of the authority vested in the president by the Board of Trustees and representing the covenant between the president and the faculty, is borne by the president of the Faculty Senate. Though the order of the procession varies from university to university, at Southern Methodist University it proceeds from the chief marshal through the ranks of the faculty and the officers of the University to the president, who is preceded by the mace-bearer.

The caps and gowns worn in the procession also vary from place to place. There are variations in design to indicate the degrees held by the wearers, and many universities in America have introduced colorful gowns and other distinguishing details (in place of the customary clerical black from which all originated). The Bachelor’s gown is a simple robe falling in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. Its distinguishing characteristic is the long pointed sleeves. Master’s gowns are arranged so that the arm emerges from a long sleeve through a slit at the wrist (replacing a former slit at the elbow). In most cases, the Doctor’s gown is marked by velvet panels down the front and around the neck, and by three bars of the same material on the bell-shaped sleeves. It is cut much fuller than the other gowns and may be ornamented in color. Faculty colors are occasionally seen in the sleeve bars and paneling.

The caps, too, vary according to the customs of the university from which the wearer received a degree. While most American universities adopted the “mortarboard” style of Oxford, others have chosen styles based on other European institutions. The color of the tassel worn with the cap may be black for any degree, or the color may be that of the faculty of the major field of learning (e.g., Arts, Engineering, Law, etc.). Persons holding doctoral degrees and governing officials of institutions are entitled to wear tassels of gold metallic thread. Such tassels are usually sewn in place. It is common practice, although not universal, that a ceremony is made of moving the tassel from the right to the left side of the cap at the moment the degree is awarded.

Within the great varieties of styles and colors in gowns and caps, there has been one universally accepted code for the hood worn trailing down the wearer’s back. Originally, it was like the hood on the habit worn by monks. Nowadays, the hood through length and color shows the degree and the specialization of the wearer, and the university that granted the degree. The Bachelor’s, Master’s, and Doctor’s hoods are 3 feet, 3½ feet, and 4 feet long, respectively. The velvet trimming in the same order is 2, 3, and 5 inches wide. The color of the trim identifies the faculty. A partial list of faculty colors follows: Arts, Letters, Humanities – White; Music – Pink; Business – Drab; Philosophy – Dark Blue; Engineering – Orange; Science – Golden Yellow; Fine Arts – Brown; Theology – Scarlet; Law – Purple. The lining of the hood – that portion most visible from the rear – indicates the institution awarding the degree. SMU’s hood lining, for example, is blue with red chevron.

Through these colorful ceremonies, SMU symbolically displays the continuity of its educational purposes with the origins of organized learning in the Western world.

RETIRING FACULTY

James O. Breeden

James O. Breeden, professor of history in Dedman College, came to SMU in 1969 after receiving B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Virginia and a Ph.D. from Tulane University. A nationally recognized scholar of science and medicine in the South, he has written several books and more than 30 scholarly articles. He served as chair of the Clements Department of History from 1997 to 2001. Known for his love of teaching and interacting with his students, Professor Breeden was recognized with numerous campus honors: the M Award, five Rotunda Outstanding Faculty Teaching Awards, and two Willis M. Tate Awards from the Students’ Association. He was twice named a HOPE (Honoring Our Professors’ Excellence) Professor. In 1990 he received special recognition when the Harold F. and Suzanne D. Falk Foundation named an undergraduate scholarship in his honor. He will retire as professor emeritus of history.

O.T. Hargrave

O.T. Hargrave, associate professor of history in Dedman College, came to SMU in 1967. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Trinity University and B.D. and Ph.D. degrees from Vanderbilt University. Initially he taught history at SMU and engaged in research and writing on the English Reformation. As he assumed administrative responsibilities, he taught mainly in the Evening Division and the Master of Liberal Arts program. Professor Hargrave’s teaching and service were recognized with a Rotunda Outstanding Faculty Teaching Award and the M Award. From 1982 until his retirement, he served as associate dean for Student Academic Affairs, overseeing the structural implementation of the General Education curricula. Under his leadership, the SMU Advising Center became a model for other universities nationwide. One of his greatest contributions was to shepherd the University through the implementation of PeopleSoft on campus. He will retire as professor emeritus of history.

Lonnie D. Kliever

Lonnie D. Kliever, professor of religious studies in Dedman College, earned a B.A. degree from Hardin-Simmons University, an M.Div. from Union Theological Seminary in New York, and a Ph.D. degree from Duke University. After joining SMU’s Department of Religious Studies in 1975, he served two terms as department chair, from 1975 to 1986 and from 1993 to 1999. Professor Kliever published four books on theological and ethical subjects and also wrote numerous articles and op-ed pieces. He served on many University committees, including the Athletic Council, and belonged to several regional and national committees of the American Academy of Religion. His outstanding service, teaching, and scholarship were recognized with three of SMU’s highest honors: the M Award, the Rotunda Outstanding Faculty Teaching Award, and the Godbey Lecture Series Authors’ Award. He will retire as professor emeritus of religious studies.
Paul F. Packman

Paul F. Packman, professor of mechanical engineering in the School of Engineering, earned his B.S. degree from Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art in New York and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Syracuse University. He joined SMU in 1978 as professor and chair of the Department of Civil and Mechanical Engineering, which he chaired until 1986. Focusing his teaching and research on material science and fracture mechanics, Professor Packman developed courses involving innovative approaches and projects. In recent years, he directed senior students in designing devices for the disabled and producing working prototypes to be used by people with disabilities. A leading expert in metallurgical failure analysis, Professor Packman is internationally known for his work in forensic engineering and investigation of disasters such as airplane crashes. He will retire as professor emeritus of mechanical engineering.

Zoë Urbanek

Zoë Urbanek, assistant professor of French in Dedman College, came to SMU in 1956. She earned a B.A. degree at Mount Holyoke College, studied at the University of Besançon in France, and earned an M.A. at Northwestern University. She served several times as chair of SMU’s French area and directed the University’s study programs in Paris and Dijon. She was at the forefront of several curricular innovations, including the Liberal Studies sequence, Core curriculum, and Women’s Studies program. Professor Urbanek served on the Executive Committee of the Women’s Faculty Caucus and as chair of the Commission on the Status of Women. Her principal research field was 16th- and 17th-century French literature, and she produced numerous conference papers on French women writers. As a prominent member and former president of the Faculty Club, she helped make the Club an important part of the collegial life of the University. She will retire as professor emerita of French.
Peter Robert Lamont Brown, Doctor of Humane Letters

Peter Robert Lamont Brown, historian, not only has enabled us to understand the voices of late Antique and early medieval philosophical polytheism, Christianity, Manicheism, and early Islam, he also has enabled the voices of those distant eras and very different cultures to speak to us in ways that we can understand. Brown has performed this delicate and immensely demanding task with unique distinction: at Oxford, where he was chosen at a young age to be a Fellow of All Souls College; at Royal Holloway College of the University of London; at the University of California-Berkeley; and for the past 16 years at Princeton, where he is the Rollins Professor of History. In addition to numerous articles, Peter Brown has written more than a dozen books, several of them milestones of historical thought and the integration of aspects of a culture usually studied in artificial separation. Among the best known are Augustine of Hippo: A Bibliography, The Cult of the Saints: Its Rise and Function in Latin Christianity, and The Rise of Western Christendom. Brown’s work clearly demonstrates what sustained and honest sensitivity can accomplish in shattering our bonds of time and space. If anyone embodies the humanities in the living generations of creative scholars today, it is this master of many tongues and modalities of human experience. For his monumental, stimulating, and wide-ranging corpus of scholarship, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Peter Robert Lamont Brown the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Elisabeth Schüessler Fiorenza, Doctor of Divinity

Elisabeth Schüessler Fiorenza, writer, educator, and scholar, is best known for her groundbreaking book, In Memory of Her: A Feminist Theological Reconstruction of Christian Origins (1983), a work that challenged all previous assumptions about the character of earliest Christian history, laid the foundations for feminist biblical scholarship, and has become an internationally recognized classic text in feminist theology, translated into twelve languages. Her work in biblical scholarship always pushes us beyond the standard boundaries of biblical interpretation to show its interconnections with politics, rhetoric, epistemology, and education. She is the co-founder and editor of the Journal of Feminist Studies in Religion, and was the first woman to be elected resident of the Society of Biblical Literature. For her refusal ever to settle for the easy answer, for her unwavering insistence on the interrelationship of oppressions, for her unrelenting challenge to the churches to take women seriously, for her willingness to take the kind of academic risks that continue to open new ways of understanding the complex religious, social, and political worlds in which we live, SMU is honored to confer upon Elisabeth Schüessler Fiorenza the degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa.

Thomas Lyle Martin, Jr., Doctor of Science

Thomas Lyle Martin, Jr., university president, engineer, and educator, played a pivotal role in transforming the SMU School of Engineering and leading it to national prominence. During his tenure as Dean of the SMU Institute of Technology, engineering education and research funding increased significantly. A pioneer in distance education, he was responsible for creating The Association for Graduate Education and Research in North Texas, known as TAGER, which provided live telecasts of courses to Dallas-Fort Worth industries and corporations. He has served as president of the Illinois Institute of Technology, on the Board of Directors of many corporations, and chaired the National Research Council’s Committee on Minorities in Engineering. An expert on radioactive ionizers, he has authored seven books and holds three patents. Martin is a member of the National Academy of Engineering, a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and a Hall of Fame member of the American Society for Engineering Education, and his civic achievements include serving as one of the founders of the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport. For his contributions to SMU, to the growth of engineering and scientific education in North Texas, and to the advancement of higher education nationally, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Thomas Lyle Martin, Jr. the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ANTONIO O. "TONY" GARZA, JR.

The career of Tony Garza ('83) has been a series of firsts. In November 2002 he became the youngest ambassador to Mexico, the United States' second-largest trading partner after Canada. "As someone who grew up along the border, I came to understand long ago that the destinies of Mexico and the United States are forever linked," he said in an interview soon after becoming ambassador. "Our two nations have great challenges and opportunities ahead of us in numerous aspects of the relationship, such as trade, the environment, the fight against crime, security and, of course, migration." In 1998 he became the first Hispanic Republican in Texas history elected to the Railroad Commission and soon became its chairman. Previously a partner in the law firm of Bracewell & Patterson, in 1994 Tony Garza was appointed Texas' Secretary of State and senior adviser by then Governor-elect George W. Bush. In addition, when Mr. Garza was elected county judge in Cameron County, the highest elective office in the county, he became the first Republican elected to countywide office in traditionally Democratic South Texas. Ambassador Garza, a Dedman School of Law graduate, received the School's 2001 Distinguished Alumnus Award and the Outstanding Young Texas Exes Award in 1989 from the University of Texas at Austin. Hispanic Business Magazine has twice named him one of its "Top 100 Most Influential Hispanics."

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn’s early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O’er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe’s haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o’er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning’s first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
’Tis the star-spangled banner! Oh long may it wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle’s confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wiped out their foul footstep’s pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war’s desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: “In God is our trust.”
And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave!
