A Wife's Reflection

Mimi M'Knight

RECENTLY I was lamenting to a friend about my failure to accomplish very much in a business venture, and she commented “You’re married to Joe M’Knight—that’s almost a full time job in itself!” There is some truth to this—the past 25 years have certainly been an adventure with many surprises along the way.

I remember that shortly after we were married, I passed him on the street one day, and he was so engrossed in thought that he didn’t even recognize me. This was sort of a shock. So was the first time he forgot to come home for dinner but that became a common occurrence.

I could go on but I think of the 15 odd cats he has tolerated, the catering jobs all over the house or the times he has filled in as bartender in an emergency. But mostly I think of the laughter and joy always. The adventure continues.
