NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

In 1962 the Southwestern Law Journal published four issues which included 16 Leading Articles, 5 Comments, 9 Notes, and 10 Recent Developments—a total of 699 pages. The volume sold for $7.50. Since then, quantity has increased at a steady rate, and additional policies have been implemented to insure quality. In three issues of Volume 20, 1966, the Southwestern Law Journal published 14 Leading Articles, 6 Comments, 15 Notes, 28 Recent Decisions—a total of 698 pages.

Accompanying the first issue of Volume 21 will be a ten-year cumulative index. Beginning with that volume, the indexes will be cumulated continually over a five-year period.

Due to increased content, added features and services, and ever-increasing printing costs, the Journal announces the following revised price list.
