To CHARLES SHIRLEY POTTS, Dean of the Southern Methodist University School of Law, 1927-1947, this issue is dedicated in appreciation of his untiring service for the improvement of criminal procedure in Texas.
The Association seeks to serve the School of Law by undertaking various projects for the development of the School and to keep the ex-law students informed as to the progress of the School. The Association also aids graduates in obtaining positions.

All Southern Methodist University ex-students in the legal profession and all former students of the School of Law are eligible to become members of the Association. It is not necessary that a candidate for membership have received a law degree from, or have attended, the Southern Methodist University School of Law.

The classes of membership and dues in the Association are: Annual Members, five dollars per year; Sustaining Members, fifty dollars per year.

Applications for membership may be addressed to E. Taylor Armstrong, Secretary, Republic Bank Building, Dallas, Texas.
